Congressional Contests in Several Districts Due To Be Close SWING-SAMPLE IN HOTTEST BATTLE
Victory Tomorrow Held to Be Same as Election at Fall Polling

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Control of the next state legislature and determination of who will be candidates for seats in congress at the November election were the issues involved in the state primaries which call voters to the polls tomorrow.

Lack of any state wide issues has localized the interest to contests. Legislative contests, however, are along pretty clearly drawn lines for and against the present state administration and will be largely determined tomorrow.

In many counties interest is sustained by spirited races for county offices which will have the effect of drawing out the vote and bringing the total cast up to a point comfortably to that usually recorded on state-wide issues.

For places in congress three districts, the First, Third and Ninth, are without contests of any kind. In First district Clarence F. Lea has no opponent for either the Republican or Democratic nominations. In the Third district Charles F. Curry is without opposition in both Republican and Democratic tickets while James H. Barkley, unopposed on the Socialist ticket, will be in the race against him in November. In the Ninth district Walter F. Linberger of Long Beach is the sole candidate for the Republican nomination and no names on the Democratic or Socialist tickets.

Congressional Contests
In the other Congressional districts contests of varying intensity are in progress.

In the Second district John E. Raker of Alhambra, Democratic incumbent for many years, is opposed by Dr. Ernest Dosier of Redding, member of the Legislature, for the Republican nomination. While Raker's strength always has been unbeatable, it was expected this contest would go to the November election, with Raker on the Democratic ticket and Dosier on the Republican.

Julius Kahn, dean of the California congressional delegation, is opposed for the Republican nomination in the Fourth district by Dr. C. Huck Kahn, who is unopposed on the Democratic ticket, appears the strongest.

A spirited three cornered race in the Fifth district for both the Republican and Democratic nominations is attracting much attention. This is the district now represented by Mrs. Mae Nolan, who is not a candidate. Lawrence J. Flaherty, James W. Mullen and W. Esters Von Krahan are the three seeking the Republican nomination while Flaherty, Mullen and Clarence A. Henning are in the Democratic race. Thus far it seems to be anybody's contest.

Makes Hard Fight.
Albert E. Carter is making a hard fight in the Sixth district against James R. MacLafferty for the Republican nomination. No names are on the Democratic ticket and the winner will be opponent.

WOMAN CANDIDATE BELIEVES IN FLAPPER, BUSINESS GIRL

TEMPLE, Tex., Aug. 25.—Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson, Democratic nominee for governor and the first woman to be given that honor in the United States, is a strong advocate of the American business woman and has faith in the "flapper."

The woman candidate does not encourage abandonment of the home, but says women should not allow an opportunity to slip away because of indifference.

"I do not mean that women have to work outside their homes to accomplish big things, but the opportunity has been given women in

TIJUANA POLICE OFFICER AND WOMAN ARRESTED AND STILL TAKEN FROM AUTO

A flashily dressed woman and her Mexican chauffeur, who had concealed in his clothing the badge of a Tijuana special police officer No. 1, were lodged in jail here at 10 a. m. charged with the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, today after their coupe, which contained a large copper still and two sealed bottles of "Dondon Scotch whisky," crashed into and overturned a large sedan at the corner of Main street and Washington avenue.

Both automobiles were badly damaged, but no one was injured.

The woman, whose suitcase contained a fortune teller's book and a number of extravagant gowns, gave the name of Miss Lillian D. Kohler, 34, of 344 South Rampart boulevard, Los Angeles. Her chauffeur told Officer Earl Lentz, who made both arrests and who confiscated the liquor, that his name was Fred Macias, 37, and he lived in Chihuahua, Mexico. He refused to account for the Tijuana police badge.

It was expected they would be arraigned before Justice John Landell late today or tomorrow morning.

According to persons who witnessed the accident, the coupe struck the sedan broadside near the southwest corner of the street intersection. T. J. Pottenheimer, 1291 North Broadway, owner of the large car, was thrown through the broken glass as the sedan toppled over on its side. The coupe came to a stop against the south curb on Washington avenue.

The woman was said to have hastily climbed out of the car while the Mexican reached in back of the seat for a bundle wrapped in a coat. Bystanders said they thought the man had taken a small baby from the car, but Officer Lentz, who had been summoned by persons who witnessed the crash, quickly discovered that the "infant" was a package which contained two bottles of supposedly "imported" liquor.

The large copper still was covered over with newspapers, Lentz said. The drip funnel, which connected the top of the boiler to the cooling coil, was fully six feet long, and part of the long cone protruded over the back of the seat, uncovered.

The arrested couple refused to state where they were going when their trip was so suddenly interrupted.

Herman Zabel, superintendent of the Orange county bureau of identification, today was carefully comparing descriptions of the pair with his most recent circulars describing wanted criminals.

APPOINT RECEIVER TO WILSON PACKERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Banking Commissioner Edward Maxson of New Jersey has been appointed receiver for Wilson and Company, packers, by Vice-Chancellor Backus in Trenton, according to the Dow Jones financial agency.

Application for the receivership was made by Morris J. Klein of Newark. Wilson and Company officials do not attach any importance to the application, which was made Saturday, and will contest the action.

Reckless Driving Trial Date Fixed

Having entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of reckless driving, H. B. Allison today was awaiting trial, the case being set for September 15 at 2 p. m. in Justice Jack Landell's court here.

Allison is accused of responsibility for a traffic accident on South Main street.

PLEA IS MADE FOR LIVES OF SLAYERS

CRIMINAL COURTROOM, CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 25.—Two children, wandering around in a nightmare world, the sport of blind forces—this was the picture conjured up today by Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney, in his plea for the lives of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of 14-year-old Robert Frank.

They are just two imperfect machines, lacking the emotions to balance their superior intellects, committing various crimes, with the murder of Bobby Franks as the climax, because nature failed to build perfectly. Darrow told Chief Justice John R. Caverly in his final argument to save the boys from the gallows.

"No one can conclude, after a study of this case, on the act itself, except that diseased intellect is responsible for this terrible act," Darrow began.

Loeb, Darrow said, was given too much opportunity by wealth. Dickie's goodness, Darrow said, led, forcing him to read books drove him along the line of learning beyond his years. Due to her severity and restraint, Loeb was forced to practice subterfuge. In secret he read detective stories. This diet of crime stories made a profound impression on his life.

"Childhood is filled with delusions," Darrow declared. "Your Honor has had childhood delusions and so have I."

"But, Your Honor, I want to point out that the trend these delusions take is not caused by the boy himself, but by the people and the things that influence him."

Before I'd hang a rope around the neck of a boy I'd try to remember my days of childhood."

Walter Johnson Pitches No Hit No Run Game

GRIFFITH STADIUM, WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Walter Johnson pitched a seven inning no hit game against St. Louis this afternoon which was awarded to the Senators by a 2 to 0 score when rain intervened at the beginning of the eighth inning. It was the second no-run, no hit game of Johnson's career and put Washington into first place in the pennant race, which New York not having been concluded when the game here was called because of a down-pour.

The game was the first of a double header. The second was postponed because of wet grounds.

France Seeking New U. S. Loan Newspaper Hears

LONDON, Aug. 25.—France wants to borrow $150,000,000 from America, or its equivalent in credits, according to the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph.

It is the correspondent's understanding that American representatives are already being approached on the subject.

Use Kerosene To Rout Mosquitos' Chicago Attack

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 25.—Measures were being prepared today to combat the scourge of mosquitos which descended on Chicago and nearby suburbs following recent heavy rains.

City officials of several North Shore suburbs have marshalled supplies of kerosene with which stagnant waters will be covered. Golf links yesterday were either deserted by humans, or peopled by occasional players who walked nervously with mosquito netting hanging from their hats and constantly waved handkerchiefs before them.

Hit and Scoot Scooterist Latest Demon

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—A hit and scoot scooterist is being sought by San Francisco police today.

Mrs. L. A. Kelly told officers that she had alighted from a street car and was mounting the hill toward her home when a bright red scooter piloted by a seven year old demon, struck her and knocked her down. The scooter was turned turtle in the gutter.

When she regained her composure, Mrs. Kelly found the scooter had vanished. The hill where Mrs. Kelly was hurt is like hundreds of similar slopes in the city where the motorless speed wagons of juvenile road burners compete in a daily Grand Prix.

MORE TIME IS GIVEN M'COY TO PLEAD

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Places in line outside the court room where Kid McCoy and Harry J. Dunlap, "badge bandit," appeared today were sold by early comers, some of the standing space bringing as high as $5 per stand.

The largest crowd of the year packed the courthouse, the line extending down three flights of stairs and through all the corridors, men and women, "murder fans," eager to catch a glimpse of the notorious prisoners.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Kid McCoy, accused as the slayer of Mrs. Teresa Mors, his ninth love, today escaped, for another few days, the necessity of pleading to the charges against him.

Continuance of the argument, asked by defense attorneys Knickerbocker and Davin, was granted by Superior Judge Crall, and Thursday at 9:30 a. m. was designated as the hour when McCoy must plead.

Request of the prosecution, represented by Deputy District Attorney Maxwell Burke, for the addition of the name of Mrs. James Thomas, sister of the "Kid", to the list of state's witnesses contained in the indictment, was seized upon by the defense as a basis for its plea for continuance of the case.

Without ruling on the prosecution's motion, Judge Crall granted the defense's request and continued the case.

McCoy appeared in court faultlessly attired. Wearing a dark blue suit, white shirt and bow tie. His hair was brushed neatly. Entirely recovered from the "brainstorm" of last week which indicated insanity, the "Kid" was apparently normal in every respect today.

He stood erect and soldierly before the bench, and did not speak once during the proceedings. Alternately, he folded his arms before him, and let them hang at his side.

Before he arose to face the court, McCoy adjusted his horn-rimmed spectacles, and read earnestly some legal papers before him.

A large crowd packed the courtroom and adjoining corridors, drawn to the scene by the "Kid's" appearance.

American Claims In War Adjusted

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Two hundred American claims against Germany, aggregating $12,000,000 have been adjusted during August in negotiations between United States and German agents of the mixed claims commission. This brings the total of claims settled to $100,000,000.

REGISTER TO GIVE ELECTION RETURNS ON TUESDAY NIGHT

As on previous occasions, The Register is prepared to render unexcelled service tomorrow night on the results of the primary election.

Shortly after the polls close at 7 o'clock, this paper will begin receiving reports from city, county and state, showing how the candidates are running.

These reports will be flashed by stereopticon on the south wall of the post office building. Inquiries made by telephone to Phones 90 or 1650 will be promptly answered.

The ballot counting is not expected to take long, and fairly comprehensive reports should be available within a comparatively brief period after the polls close.

G. O. P. STAND ON K. K. K. TALKED

Coolidge and Dawes Meet in Vermont to Discuss Attitude

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 25.—Republican strategy on the Klan issue will be settled today under the moss covered roof of Colonel John Coolidge's farm house when President Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes meet to discuss their campaigns.

Dawes is coming here at the president's invitation, following the republican vice-presidential candidate's references to the Klan in his speech in Augusta, Maine.

Late Saturday night C. Bascom Slomp, the president's secretary and chief political advisor, reached Dawes with word that the president wished to confer with him before he went west.

It was understood that the Klan would be the chief topic at the conference.

A likely participant in the conference may be Col. George Harvey, editor of the Washington Post, an administration organ, and one of the president's closest advisors.

With politics re-established as the principal topic of conversation here, the president received his old political mentor, James Lucey, a philosopher, who is a candidate for the state legislature. Lucey drove up early and found the president finishing his breakfast. The old friends greeted each other warmly.

Lucey assured the president that he would be elected in the fall.

Newport Electric Car In Crash

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Three persons were severely injured early today when a Newport line electric train and an automobile collided at Long Beach boulevard and Florence avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Lauchlin and Sumner McIndoon, of this city, riding in the automobile, were pinned under the overturned machine. Members of the train crew extricated them and called an ambulance.

Negro Confesses To Shooting of L. A. Patrolman

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Patrolman F. P. Corley, colored, and J. A. Gilmore, also a negro, are dead, and Officer E. R. Roberson is believed fatally wounded as the result of a shooting scrape in the colored district early today following a crap game.

Luther Bryant, another negro, was arrested a short time after the affair, and confessed, according to detectives, that he fired the revolver which took its toll of dead and injured.

Moving Bog In Iceland Perils Entire Village

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LONDON, Aug. 25.—A moving bog in North Cork has engulfed a farm house, and threatened to submerge an entire village.

A man named Michael Collins, regardless of his own safety, ran across the moving mass and warned a family in sufficient time for them to flee. He carried an invalid girl in his arms for several miles.

SWING TELLS POSITION ON KLAN VOTE

Candidates Denies Present or Past Membership in Hooded Organization

That he is not a member of the Ku Klux Klan and has never been and is not now and never has been affiliated with that organization in any way and that the Ku Klux Klan endorsement, if given, was given without his knowledge and without his solicitation was declared forcefully today in a statement issued by Congressman Phil D. Swing, candidate for re-election as congressman.

"I had supposed that my position on the Ku Klux Klan was known," said Congressman Swing, "for I was a member of the resolutions committee of the national convention of the American Legion in San Francisco in 1923."

"I am not a member of the Ku Klux Klan, and never have been. I am not now and never have been affiliated with that organization in any way whatever. I am not pledged to the Ku Klux Klan in any way. If the Ku Klux Klan has endorsed me, that endorsement was given without my knowledge or consent on my part and without any solicitation on my part."

"In a last desperate eleventh-hour effort to get votes for its candidate, the Los Angeles Times this morning on its front page in large type printed an article by which it endeavored to make the voters of the eleventh congressional district think that I am affiliated with the Klan. It was to be expected that the Times would make some eleventh-hour move against me in a desperate effort to divert the minds of the voters of the district from the tremendous issue involved in my campaign. The tremendous issue to which I refer is the issue involving the Boulder dam and the all-American canal."

"The Times knows that I am defeated Harry Chandler, of the Times, and his associates will make $50,000,000 or $60,000,000. They plan my defeat so that the all-American canal feature may be eliminated and the American waters of the Colorado river, conserved by American dollars, be allowed to flow upon Mexican lands owned by Harry Chandler and his associates and being developed by Chinese coolie labor. Shall this priceless heritage—water—be allowed to slip from America? Chandler wants that water. That is why he, joined with the Tia Juana vice ring, wants me defeated, and that is why in an effort to divert attention from the big issue the Times has endeavored to get voters to think about some thing besides the big thing that the Times is thinking about."

Owen D. Young to Be Agent General of Reparations

PARIS, Aug. 25.—That Owen D. Young will accept the post of Agent-General of Reparations has been confirmed in official French circles, but his tenure of office can be only temporary because of his private business interests. He hopes that another prominent American may be found to succeed him.

He has asked that Henry Robinson of Los Angeles, a member of the committee of experts prominent in drafting the Dawes-Young reparations proposal, return to aid in erecting and starting the building for the League of Nations.

Mother Sells Infant Son For $300 Cash

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—For selling her ten months' old baby for $300 cash—because she was too poor to keep it, Mrs. Agnes Mack was in jail in Brooklyn today.

The purchaser of the baby—Irving Dathie, was also in jail.

Mrs. Mack's poverty pleading touched the heart strings of the magistrate, when she attempted to regain custody of the child.

Dathie, a physician's assistant, must have some sinister purpose in purchasing the baby, the magistrate said.

Dathie has been identified as the son of Baroness Reicherperin Victorine Wolff Von Zee of Hamburg.

ROBERTSON IS DEFEATED IN TEXAS

BULETIN
DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 25.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple continued to pull away from Mrs. Felix D. Robertson of Dallas, for the Democratic nomination for governor on the face of returns to the Texas election bureau today.

Returns from 231 counties including 85 complete, gave Mrs. Ferguson 410,305 votes to 329,093 for Robertson, a lead of approximately 81,000.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 25.—Felix D. Robertson of Dallas, Texas, Klan candidate, has conceded defeat to Mrs. Miriam Ferguson of Temple, Texas, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination upon the basis of partial returns from Saturday's run-off primary.

Returns from 230 counties out of the state's 242, including 67 complete, gave Mrs. Ferguson a lead of nearly 80,000 votes over the Klan candidate according to tabulation made by the Texas election bureau at ten o'clock Sunday night.

Mrs. Ferguson's vote, according to the latest tabulation, was 403,606 and Robertson 324,297. Texas election bureau officials today predicted a total vote of $50,000 when all returns are in. Available returns have already surpassed the state's record ballot of approximately 702,000 set in the initial primary July 26.

Judge Robertson sent Mrs. Ferguson a message of congratulations upon her nomination Sunday and later in the day issued a statement here in which he declared:

"I will abide by the dictates of the people."

"30" BULLETINS

CRIMINAL COURTROOM, Chicago, Ill., Aug. 25.—Clarence Darrow, chief attorney for the defense of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, this afternoon charged one of the principal witnesses of the state with perjury. Darrow characterized the "friendly judge" testimony of Sergeant James Gortland as a "poisonous piece of perjury with a purpose."

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Aug. 25.—Seven prisoners from the Indiana penal farm being held here for return to that institution, broke jail here this afternoon and escaped. The prisoners killed the sheriff's dog for fear it would give the alarm.

ROME, Aug. 25.—Pope Pius today nominated Michael T. O'Brien of Great Falls, Mont. to be an apostolic protonary and George S. Schumann of Louisville, Ky. to be a domestic prelate.

PICKED UP AT NIGHT BY SHIP

All Members of Party Are Safe Says Naval Radio Report Received Here
LOCATELLI FORCED DOWN BY TROUBLE

Orders Great Machine to Be Destroyed—Not to Continue Flight

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. RICHMOND, Aug. 24. (Delayed)—Lieut. Locatelli, the missing Italian aviator and his three flying companions were rescued by the Richmond at 11:35 o'clock tonight. The American cruiser came upon the airmen 125 miles east of Cape Farewell, Greenland, and all were very fatigued from their harrowing experiences in the icy sea.

"Motor trouble forced us down," Locatelli explained. "We made desperate efforts to make the plane rise but it wouldn't do it. We have drifted, I figure, at least a hundred miles."

Because he did not wish to impose any further trouble on the American vessels, Locatelli ordered his great machine destroyed.

WASHINGTON RECEIVES OFFICIAL NOTICE
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—Lieut. Locatelli, Italian aviator, who has been missing since Thursday, has been picked up by the U. S. S. Richmond off the coast of Greenland, the army air service was advised officially here today. A dispatch received by naval radio from the U. S. S. Raleigh stated that the Richmond had picked up Locatelli at 11:24 last night.

The dispatch read:
"Locatelli found latitude 59:58 longitude 39:48. Sighted 2324 (11:24 p. m.) Embarked passengers. All well."

The latitude and longitude stated in the message is just off the west coast of Greenland, according to naval officials.

The finding of the Italian flyer who became lost while accompanying the American world flyers in a perilous hop from Iceland to Greenland Thursday afternoon had been pursued by United States cruisers, airplanes and motor boats for more than three days.

The cruisers were running short of fuel just as Locatelli was found. It was feared by officials here that the hunt might have to be abandoned by most of the cruisers here before many more hours.

The Americans probably will go into Indian Harbor, Labrador, tomorrow night and the Richmond, with her rescues castaways, should arrive at the Labrador coast about the same time.

The time stated in the dispatch is taken to be Greenwich mean time, which is considerably ahead of American time. Greenwich time has been used in previous dispatches.

AMERICANS PREPARE TO HOP TO LABRADOR
HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 25.—America's round the world airmen are just one hop from the North American continent today as they pause to change motors at Iqviut, Greenland. The next flight will taken them to Indian Harbor, Labrador.

The two flyers—Lieut. Lowell Smith and Lieut. Eric Nelson—arrived at Iqviut yesterday after a speedy, uneventful trip from Frederiksdal. The flyers hopped off at 1:50 p. m. (G. M. T.) and arrived at Iqviut at 4:09 p. m. (G. M. T.).

PRINCE OF WALES FAILS TO MIX IN GAIETIES ON VESSEL

ABOARD THE S. S. BERENGARIA, Aug. 25.—So far the Prince of Wales has foiled numerous debs and doting mammas who rushed to obtain passage on the boat on which he is sailing to America.

He hasn't danced nor has he mixed in other gaieties aboard the vessel, contenting himself with long strolls on the top deck. He usually is accompanied by General Trotter and Captain Lascelles. He sings to himself on these strolls.

Sunday the prince attended church but did so as unobtrusively as possible. He sat hidden behind a chair and appeared restless throughout the service. He peered from the window from time to time as though sizing up his traveling companions, while the choir, made up of bellboys and stewards sang several special numbers in his honor.

There is to be no let-up in the prince's athletic life. He has made arrangements with the instructor of the gymnasium for daily exercises. These will be in addition to the long strolls on deck.

The prince has been content with a plain lounge suit so far on the trip, even wearing it Saturday night when he gave several American girls disappointment by glancing into the crowded ball room and then leaving without dancing.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY SAYS

STEVENSON WAS ON LIST

Editor Register:—I notice in your paper where Lawrence A. Stevenson of Orange asks for my authority for stating that he is a member of the Klan. I am not aware that I have ever made that statement, but if Mr. Stevenson desires the public and himself to be enlightened upon this subject, I will say that on the original list of the members of the Ku Klux Klan which I obtained from the district attorney's office of Los Angeles at the time of the Inglewood raid, I find the name of L. A. Stevenson, whose address is given as 640 East Palmyra avenue, Orange. In view of the fact that Mr. Stevenson's name is "Lawrence A." and that his address is "640 East Palmyra avenue," I don't think that it requires any great stretch of imagination to lead one to the conclusion that Mr. Stevenson was a member of the Klan in 1922.

All of the names which I have on my list of membership were carefully checked up with the original applications, signed by the applicants.

A noticeable fact in Mr. Stevenson's letter is that he does not deny having been a member of the Klan, but contends himself with saying that he is not now a member.

The public can draw its own conclusions.

ALEX. P. NELSON,

District Attorney.

COCHEMS URGES PATRONAGE

OF SANTA ANA MERCHANTS

Editor Register: A feature of greatest importance to Santa Ana, and so lightly looked upon by the majority of us, is the lack of patronage to home trade. It should be realized that in order for a community to grow and for enterprises to exist, our grocer, our banker, etc., must have the lion's share of our trade. Observe any wealthy community and it will be pointed out that home trade patronage has made it so. People clamor for modern conveniences, close at hand, and, true, it is no more than fair that they should have them, but on the other hand, let the merchant know how you appreciate his presence and efforts to please and, if for no other reason, let it be said that it is but a citizen's duty to support any institution that has established itself in this community expecting to exist therein with the assurance at least of getting some of your trade.

For instance, if a home-seeker or investor desires to locate in Santa Ana he finds no better way to inform himself of the prosperity of this community than to inquire at local banks. Bankers here know the amount of business done by local merchants will be looked into by the investor and statements concerning the volume of business here will be considered proof to whether the community is a wealthy, prosperous one, or a back number.

Now, in conclusion, a word to all. Let us do our utmost to work in harmony for the betterment of our community; let us patronize our merchants and let the money be spent in the uplifting and upbuilding of our section, instead of going to foreign markets, when the same service, prices and conveniences are found right here at our door. We say once again—patronize your home merchant, your banker and your home people, and see the added results in the shape of a more prosperous and wealthy community and the mecca for a home-seeker.

EDWARD W. COCHEMS.

MUSEUM CURATOR TELLS S. F. GROWTH

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The romantic growth of San Francisco from a neglected country of sand dunes and scrub oaks in 1776, to the giant Golden Gate metropolis of the present day, was traced by George H. Barron, curator of the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum, for the members of the Civitan club.

"In 1776," explained Barron, "San Francisco was inhabited by five tribes of Indians, all speaking different dialects. On July 4, 1837, Jacob P. Leese erected a low wooden structure on the ground of the present intersection of Dupont and Clay streets. It was the first house in San Francisco. In 1848 Captain Montgomery landed a band of American troops, where the Bank of Italy now is, and marched up to the Spanish headquarters at the Plaza square and hoisted the Stars and Stripes.

"The flake of gold that James Wilson Marshall found in the American river precluded the population of San Francisco. In six months' time the news of the discovery had spread to all parts of the world, and shortly after the first contingent of 250,000 gold seekers landed in San Francisco. There will never be another '49 in the world's history. San Francisco as it is today is a fitting monument to the spirit of the pioneers whose courage and vision dedicated the corner stone of our unsurpassed commonwealth."

ARREST 'WOMAN SECOND TIME IN WEEK

Mrs. Mary Gillis of Cypress, was in the county jail—again—today, in default of $1000 bail which amount was fixed by Justice Jack Landell, pending her preliminary hearing on a charge of possession of liquor. The hearing was set for September 12 at 10 a. m.

Meanwhile the arrest of her husband, Charles Gillis, on a similar charge, was said to be imminent. The formal complaint against the pair, which links alleged possession of liquor with a prior conviction of a similar offense, constitutes a high misdemeanor, punishable by a sentence in state's prison instead of a jail term or fine, which is the penalty for first offenses, according to the authorities.

In a raid upon the Gillis home, headed by Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff McClellan late Saturday, ninety-six bottles of "high power" beer were unearthed, the officers declared.

As indicated by the formal complaint against them, both have been before the courts on liquor charges before. On her last appearance Mrs. Gillis was fined $100 by an Anaheim justice court.

A new use has been found for the locks shorn in the process of "bobbing," and it remained for a Chinese woman to discover it. Jung Bo, wife of a prominent Chinese merchant of Victoria, B. C., recently returned from her native land with bobbed hair, a most unusual style for a Chinese woman. But she carried her shorn tresses in the shape of an exquisite picture of Macao harbor, embroidered on silk with her own hair, working on the picture while on board ship. The necessary relief in the picture was obtained by the use of white hair, for which one of the stewards sacrificed a lock of his "pompadour."

Two more vitamins have been discovered by California scientists. The Hungarian peasant woman is a believer in the "cave man" theory, and is treated by her men folk as the cave woman must have been treated by her cave man. If a woman is not satisfied with her husband she exclaims, "He did not even beat me once!"

Anaheim Man's Trial Resumed

Delayed by adjournment of court last Thursday, James Wilson of Anaheim was today making his fight for acquittal of a statutory charge. Wilson's trial was resumed at 1:30 p. m. before Judge F. C. Drumm in department 3 of the superior court.

The state rested its case as the trial was adjourned Thursday afternoon, and the defense, conducted by Attorney Morris A. Cain, was begun as soon as court opened today.

Wilson is accused of an attempt to attack a 15-year-old Anaheim girl.

As proprietor of a tiny grocery store which she opened in the basement of an apartment building, Miss Arlene Carney, a Milwaukee girl still in her teens, is earning enough money to pay her way through Marquette University.

Queen Mary is expected to be present October 25 at a thanksgiving service which thousands of women of all professions will attend at St. Paul's Cathedral in connection with jubilee of the London School of Medicine for Women.

The dome of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, weighs 64,000 tons.

TELLS ORATORY OF AGENT WHO SELLS STOCK

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—A stock salesman, orating from a platform in a storeroom on Powell street, near Market, more than a year ago, so intrigued Otto Bronacker, of 26 Chatham place, that he bought stock in the Doble Steam Motors corporation, costing $2700. Neither one of them dreamed that some day in the future, Otto would figure as a witness in a criminal action against the salesman's employers—F. G. Cox and W. E. Barnard.

But such happened. Otto was the first witness called in Superior Judge Roche's court when the taking of evidence began in the case in which Cox and Barnard, as fiscal agents of the Doble Steam Motors corporation, went to trial as violators of the corporate securities act through sales of stock.

Investment was $2700. Otto called to the witness stand by Assistant District Attorney Robert E. Fitzgerald, told of wandering down Powell street one day in July of last year. As he neared Market street, Otto heard the siren tones of a salesman later identified as F. J. McInerney. Otto hesitated and was lost. On four separate visits he contributed $2700 for Doble stock.

Just before Otto gave his testimony, Judge Roche announced that Superior Judge J. Earl Wooley of Fresno would preside during the balance of the trial.

"I have sat constantly during the past year," Judge Roche said, "and have tried on an average of three cases a day. I feel that I must heed a few demands of my constituents that I meet them and renew my acquaintance with them, especially in view of the fact that I am a candidate for reelection at the primaries next Tuesday."

Opinion Seemed Unanimous.

"We have no objection to the presidency of Judge Wooley," remarked Edwin V. McKenzie, attorney for Cox and Barnard. "Go ahead and get yourself re-elected as you deserve to be."

"We have no objection to the presidency of Judge Wooley," added Assistant District Attorney Fitzgerald.

After Otto, the first witness, was excused, Assistant District Attorney Fitzgerald called Louis Philipp of 1300 Golden Gate avenue. Philipp told the jury that he, too, was walking down Powell street one night last July when he was accosted by McInerney.

A WORD OF COMFORT
Whence come in a child the traits which none of his forebears showed? From God himself.
From Him, too, comes to the soul the power to live triumphantly on when the body is left behind.
He has made us to live for eternity with Him. What we experience in this world is important only as it makes us understand and trust His love. Go for-

WOOL ORDERS GAIN

TORONTO, Ontario, Aug. 25.—
It is anticipated that English orders for Canadian wool will exceed 1,000,000 pounds this year, which will be a considerable increase over the business of 1923, which amounted to 700,000 pounds.

News Briefs

The bi-monthly meeting of the Santa Ana board of education, scheduled for 4:30 p. m. tomorrow, will not be held, according to an announcement made today by F. L.
Andrews, secretary. Due to the fact that tomorrow is a legal holiday, on account of the primaries, the board decided not to meet, he said.

Organized for the stated purpose of mining and marketing silica, as well as manufacturing various silica products, including brick and tile, the El Toro Silica company today filed a copy of its articles of incorporation with the county clerk. Headquarters of the company, which is capitalized at $150,000, is at its quarries near El Toro, it is said.
Three Pasadena men, H. W.
Soule, T. H. Pletsch and Philip E. Thomas, are directors of the company.

Officers of Anaheim lodge will conduct here tomorrow evening ceremonies initiating five novices into Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B.
P. O. E. W. W. Wasser, secretary of the Santa Ana lodge announced today. Preparations were being made for attendance of a large number of members of the local lodge as well as a number of visitors from the Anaheim order, Wasser said.

Returning to his old home for the first time in thirteen years, Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Savings bank, will leave here Wednesday to spend a month with his father, John Brownridge, in Toronto, Canada. He will go from here to Chicago, direct to Toronto, and will return via the way of Vancouver.
"The old town will look good, even though it will be very much different from the Toronto that I left thirteen years ago," stated Brown-ridge.

KU KLUX KLAN ISSUE STILL PARAMOUNT

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Ku Klux Klan today threatened to remain an issue to the end of the presidential campaign.
Denunciation of the Klan by President Coolidge will come too late now to head off the issue, in the opinion of Democratic leaders.
Instead of removing the Klan from politics, the seagirt speech of John W. Davis, the Democratic standard bearer, has had the effect of imbedding the issue more firmly in the campaign. It was thrust deeper by General Charles G. Dawes in his August speech. Anti-Klan Democratic leaders are ridiculing
Davis' utterances as a "straddle."
They intend to capitalize it locally, no matter what Davis' position may be.
Robert M. La Follette also started a drive to rally anti-Klan groups in southern states behind his candidacy.
A campaign leader of the southern states will be named immediately by Senator La Follette to capitalize his early denunciation of the Klan by name and to stress his stand against Republican economic principles which have long been opposed by a big majority of the entire Old South.
Davis may run into the Klan issue when he reaches "Columbus," where tomorrow he addresses the Ohio Democratic state convention and may again be called upon to express his views on the Klan.

WHEAT CROP ESTIMATED
WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Aug. 25.— Canada's wheat crop this year is estimated at 282,042,000 bushels by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.
This estimate is based on definite estimates of the field of fall wheat, and the latest report of condition of spring wheat throughout Canada.

CHANGE COUNTY C. OF C. MEET TIME, PLAN

Recounting declarations of delegates from suburban districts that prayer meetings on Wednesday night prevented many men and women from attending sessions of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, George Raymer, secretary, announced today that an amendment changing the meeting time would be offered at the meeting of the county body to be held at La Habra at 6:30 p. m. Thursday.
He said the amendment would propose changing the meeting date from the last Wednesday to the last Thursday evening in each month.

In announcing the meeting at La Habra for Thursday evening, Ray-mer, said that no special program had been arranged for the business session.
"The usual discussion of county affairs no doubt will offer an interesting program," said the secretary.

The meeting will be held in the new clubhouse of the Woman's club, Raymer said, adding that an entertaining local program had been arranged by the local committee in charge of plans for the session.

Referring to the reputation of the club women for their culinary abilities, as demonstrated at past meetings of the chambers at La Habra, Raymer said that he was anticipating the presence of approximately 100 men and women.

L. F. Coburn, of Orange, president of the chamber, said today that it was not likely reports would be made by sub-committees of the Orange county harbor committee of fifty.

KOSLOFF, FILM DANCER, FACES CRASH SUIT

Theodore Kosloff, of terpsicho-rean fame and film prominence, was scheduled to make a public appearance in Santa Ana at 8 p. m.
today.
Kosloff was slated to dance, figuratively, to the beat of a court gavel. His interpretation of the "legal step" brought him before his "fans" in an entirely new role.
As defendant in a damage suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Oliver, of 1067 1/2 West Fourth street, Santa Ana, the famous dancer's trial involved a claim of $296.84 arising from an automobile collision in front of the Oliver home last May 18.

Although Kosloff, at the time of the accident, nearly suffered the calamity of being left unidentified by an unsophisticated newspaper reporter, he was not overlooked by the Oliver, who turned the spotlight upon him with their suit for damages.

In their complaint, Mr. and Mrs.
Oliver state that they were driving west along West Fourth street at 6 p. m., May 18, and slowed down to make a right turn into their driveway, at the same time giving the proper arm signal. Their car was partly on the driveway, they alleged, when Kosloff's car, traveling behind them, at what they claim was a rapid rate, crashed into them.

Mrs. Oliver was said to have been thrown against the top and side of the car, sustaining bruises for which $250 damages are asked.
A claim of $46.84 was made for damage to the Oliver car.

Attorneys Archie Donaghey and Loren W. Smith filed the suit on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver.
Kosloff retained prominent Los Angeles attorneys, Neil H. McCarthy, Earl S. Banta and Rolande Maxwell.

Picnic Enjoyed at Balboa Palisades

It was indeed a lively bunch of Orange County Ignition Works employees who motored to Balboa Palisades yesterday for a family picnic which included all the well-known beach pleasures.

Each family group carried a well-filled picnic basket while a host committee offered watermelons, ice cream and hot coffee to round out the contents of the basket.
Swimming was of course one of the leading amusements but baseball was a close second and the game between the married men and the bachelors occasioned much merriment, especially among the wives when the married men won.

Members from Fullerton and Orange were present as well as from Santa Ana, among the merry pic-nickers being E. L. Matthews and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Matthews, L. C. Holland and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Lindley, Elwood Lindsey, William Penn, Mr. and Mrs. John James and son, Ko-neth Miller, Rufus Andrews, Wilson Andrews, Miss Thelma Weide,

Bury G. A. R. Vets With Special Rites

After pastors conducted services late Saturday for Benjamin C.
Smith and Henry L. Vanhise, Civil War veterans and members of the Grand Army of the Republic, special services at the graves were conducted by the Sedgwick post No. 17, G. A. R.

The Vanhise services were conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday by the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at San Jose. Mrs. Nora Coleman sang.
Services for Mr. Smith were held at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, the Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist church, here officiated. A solo was sung by Mrs.
Ceil Willett.

Members of Sedgwick post acted as pall bearers at both services.

AUTO DEALER'S HOME LOOTED BY THIEVES

While George Dunton, automobile dealer here, was visiting with his family at Satalina Island, burglars Saturday night thoroughly ransacked his home at 1532 East Fourth street, according to today's report at police headquarters.

The robbery was discovered by Mrs. Dunton's brother who promptly notified the police. No fingerprints or other clues were found, although the house was left in disorder.

It will be impossible to secure a list of the stolen articles, according to the police until members of the Dunton household check up their losses. However, it was reported that because of the thorough search made of the house by the intruders, virtually everything of high value which could easily be carried away may have been taken.

The thieves gained entrance to the house by cutting the screen of a rear bedroom window which they then pried open.

At Seventeenth and Broadway
Saturday night the home of Sam Hurwitz was made the target of burglars for the second time this summer. In this instance, however, the miscreants succeeded only in tearing open the rear screen door and did not get into the house.

$700 IN BOOZE FINES LEVIED AT BEACH

Two justices of the peace in Fullerton and Seal Beach today took heavily on offenders for alleged violation of the dry laws as regards drunkenness and possession of liquor.

At Seal Beach, Justice G. W.
Morrison collected approximately $700 fines while at Fullerton Justice Henry Hart doled out jail sentences in lieu of fines for old offenders.

Ramon Sanchez, 32, Fullerton, pleaded guilty to being intoxicated and having liquor in his possession and was sentenced to thirty days in jail on the drunk charge and ninety days in jail on the second charge. His three companions, P.
Bernardo, 32, D. Sanchez, 32, and Pete Herrera, 32, were each given 30 days in the county jail. The four were arrested in the rear of a residence at 340 East Truslow avenue, according to Chief of Police Arthur Eells of Fullerton.

J. W. McAnally, who said he was a song writer and singer, of Santa Ana, was given a ninety-day suspended sentence by Justice Morrison at Seal Beach this morning when he was taken into court on a disorderly conduct charge. Mc-Anally, a World War veteran, has no legs, it was said, having lost both of his limbs through his military service.

Mrs. V. Mauro was fined $200 on a charge of selling liquor. She paid $287 of the fine in cash and was given until Wednesday to raise the remaining $13. George Moran of Long Beach forfeited $100 on a possession charge. T. A. Armitage and A. W. Truman of Los Angeles, H. R. Dunham of Redlands and Ray Boston of Los Angeles were fined $50 each by Morrison on intoxication charges.

Bees Take Over Peach Plant and Rout Employees

VISALIA, Aug. 25.—Bees attacked the peach packing plant of the California Cooperative canneries in this city, requiring the combined ingenuity of the law, beemen and factory heads to keep the machinery running.
The law admitted it was helpless in the face of a whole hive of bees, which seemed to belong to nobody and refused to stay put. The beemen were unable to lead them into their hives, since the bees thought considerably more of the sugary content of the fresh packed peaches and syrup than they did of home.

HELD IN WEAPON CASE
A. Serrata, 25, of Lemon Heights, late today is expected to explain to Justice John Landell why he carried a revolver without a permit. The arrested man, who today was lodged behind iron bars, is facing a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

NAME MAY WIN PRISONER NEW HOME HERE

Because an inmate at the county jail here happened to be named Frawley, he was offered a good home in Santa Ana today by Mrs.
D. M. Frawley of 604 East Fourth street, who said she would urge the authorities to release the young man and hold her responsible for his conduct as long as he cared to live in her home.

The prisoner is John Frawley, 24, who was arrested Friday by Patrolman James Murray and who has served three days of his ten-day sentence for vagrancy.

Behind the bars in the county jail, Mrs. Frawley visited the youth.
"I haven't any relatives that I know of out here," the prisoner told her. "My father lives in New York, and you might write to him to see if we are related. His folks came to this country from Ireland."

Mrs. Frawley said she felt certain that John was some distant relative.
"I saw his name in Saturday's Register, listed among those sent to jail by Justice Landell," she said. "There are so few Frawleys who are not related to us, that I felt positive this poor lad must be of our kin. He has committed no serious offense and he seems frank and honest."

During the visit at the jail Frawley promised he would "go straight and would behave" if given a chance to make good.
"If you'll keep me till I can land a job, I'll prove that I am worthy of your confidence," he told the woman.

When the iron door closed behind her, Mrs. Fawley called back to the prisoner that she would take immediate steps to have him paroled to her, if such procedure were possible.

HELD IN LIQUOR CASE

Y. Herrera, 30, today was in jail here on a charge of illegally possessing intoxicating liquor. He was arrested last night by Officers Smith and Holmes who said they took a pint of "moonshine" from him.

Merrymakers Enjoy Logé Party at Pavilion
The merriment of a logé party at the Balboa pavilion was enjoyed Saturday night by a little group of friends to whom dancing offers a pronounced charm. Motoring down to the popular resort, they spent the evening in company with hundreds of other pleasure-seekers, in dancing to the irresistible music offered by the pavilion orchestra.

While there was no special host for the affair, the plan originated with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Smith and the group included in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Smith and the two young people of their home, Miss Elizabeth and Don Smith, Messrs. and Mesdames Hugh Osborne, Clifford Prunty, Ernest Huckspeit, Jack Miller, Jack Galloway, Charles Swanson, and George Osterman, Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, Miss Cecil Trindle and Messrs. ## Greenville Hostess Presents Pleasant Birthday Affair

Counting themselves most fortunate to share in so delightful an event, a little group of Santa Anans motored to Greenville Saturday to enjoy a birthday luncheon given by Mrs. John Lockett. An interval of friendly chat followed the arrival of the guests at the hospitable ranch home and at 1 o'clock the elaborate four-course dinner was served. It was strictly a southern menu, featuring generous platters of Maryland fried chicken and a great variety of vegetable all from the extensive home gardens. The menu ended with rich homemade ice cream and cake. Everything was beautifully served by Mr. Leslie Lockett, son of the home who was highly complimented by the delighted guests and assured that such skill would render him a remarkable matrimonial prize.

The guests presented Mrs. Lockett with a handsome flower bowl which she at once utilized in centering the luncheon table with an artistic arrangement of baby dahlias. Mr. Lockett surprised his wife with a handsome wrist watch.

Guests enjoying the delightful intimacy of the affair were only a few of the birthday honoree's closest friends and included Mrs. H. W. Head, Miss Percy Head, Mrs. Ray Steadman, Mrs. Alice Overshiner, and Mrs. Lavenia Mayfield. Afternoon hours passed rapidly with needlework and lively tales of vacation outings.

Recent Bride Given Lovely Presents At Card Party

Happily planned by a trio of hostesses was a post-nuptial shower honoring Mrs. George Chapman, the former Miss Marguerite Galbraith, given on a recent evening at the home of Mrs. Elmer A. Schaniel, 617 Lime street, with Mrs. Schaniel, Miss Virginia Trumbull and Miss Ruby Cameron entertaining.

Mrs. Schaniel's pretty home was gay with flowers in honor of the occasion and a pleasant evening of cards was planned for the guests, with five hundred as the chosen game. Mrs. Claude Sleeper proved the most skillful player and was awarded first prize of a complete in brilliantly tinted crystal, while a dainty chiffon handkerchief was the consolation gift offered Mrs. Jessie Rex.

Following the evening at cards, the hostess trio arranged the small tables most attractively in an orchid and yellow effect and served a delicious chicken salad with wafers and coffee, ices molded in wedding slipper form and sweet wafers. While the guests were yet lingering over the refreshments, a knock at the door was followed by a request for Mrs. Chapman.

In responding to the call, the honor guest found a generous array of beautiful gifts thrust upon her. These were placed in the center of the living-room floor and in the presence of the interested group, Mrs. Chapman examined the lovely articles of silver, pyrex, cut crystal, linen and all the countless gifts made in honor of her recent wedding.

Sharing in her enjoyment were the donors including the hostess group, Mrs. Schaniel, Miss Trumbull and Miss Cameron; Mrs. N. L. Galbraith, Mrs. A. E. Chapman, Mrs. Rose Walker, Mrs. Herman Zabel, Mrs. Jessie White, Mrs. Grace Ogg, Mrs. Hazel Leonard, Mrs. Jessie Rex, Mrs. Carl Edgar, Mrs. Fred Merker, Mrs. Clyde Whitney, Mrs. Claude Sleeper, the Misses Justine Whitney, Ada Brown, Blanche Westering, Lucille Powers, Ruth Crosby, Elizabeth Campbell, Nora Lykko, Mildred Smith, Corinne Kooz, Nita Kooz, Lulu McDonald and Betsy Schaniel.

Stream-line Frock For Slender Women

This frock should interest only slender women, since it would be effective only on the curvaceous figure. But given such a figure the result is extremely effective. The collar may be worn closed or open to reveal a V neck. The extreme slowness of the frock is emphasized by the row of bone buttons which begins under the arm and ends only when the skirt does. The material is a shimmer green cloth with a suede finish and the fur used is dyed squirrel.

Miss Owens to Stay In Honolulu

It is a matter of keen regret to the hosts of friends of Miss Kathleen Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Owens of Owens Drive and erstwhile office secretary of the Y. M. C. A., that her summer stay in Honolulu has proven delightful enough to persuade her to stay on in the enchanted island.

For recent letters from Miss Owens to her family conveyed the information that she had decided to remain in Honolulu until after the holidays at least and had secured a position there, retaining the fascinating little cottage "On the beach at Waikiki" which she shared in the summer with the Misses Edith and Joan Dalen of Long Beach, her companions on the sea voyage.
Miss Edith Dalen recently sailed for home but Miss Joan Dalen remains in Honolulu with Miss Owens and will teach in the island schools this winter. Miss Owens gives colorful accounts of her life in Honolulu and declares the climate and surroundings to be the most delightful she has ever experienced.

Daughters of Veterans

Musical Evening Is Planned to Follow Southern Dinner

A decidedly musical trend was given the delightful evening arranged Saturday to honor Los Angeles house-guests of Miss Linda Paul of North Main street, who entertained over the weekend, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Paul and their two sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Galloway and son. A little group of friends asked to meet the guests, were given the added pleasure of one of Miss Paul's famous southern dinners for which she is justly renowned. The evening of music which followed served to introduce a beautiful singer in the person of Mr. Galloway who was quite the star of the evening and whose wonderfully rich and magnetic voice (a high tenor) was heard in song after song as the vocalist obligingly gave numbers which were requested.

Among these, one of the most beautiful was Carrie Jacobs Bond's "Little Pink Roses" sung by request. Tipton-Campbell's "Spirit Flower" was another much appreciated number. Harry Warner was at the piano for all the programmed numbers of the evening, his sympathetic accompaniments adding much to the pleasure.

Miss Lella Rittner sang beautifully as did James Nuckolls and James Paul, one of the honor guests, while James Paul delighted her friends with a succession of cleverly interpreted readings.

In her pleasant hostess duties, Miss Paul was assisted by her niece, Miss Catherine Allen and their guests included in addition to the Los Angeles group, Mr. and Mrs. James Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Galloway and the young people, Miss Lella Rittner, Miss Frances Walton, Mr. and Mrs. James Nuckolls and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner.

Mr. Galloway was guest soloist at the morning service of Spurgeon Memorial church yesterday. The house-party was concluded last night by the return of the members to Los Angeles with the exception of Mrs. Paul who remained for a more extended visit.

GOLD YIELD TOLD
TIMMINS, Ontario, Aug. 25.—Production of gold from the mines of northern Ontario during July was maintained at a rate of over $25,000,000 annually. Nine mines figured in the output of approximately $2,125,000. Hollinger was the chief producer, being responsible for over $1,000,000 of the total.

DISTRIBUTE FRY
OTTAWA, Ontario, Aug. 25.—About 160,000,000 pickerel fry have been distributed in Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan this season from the fish hatcheries operated by the Federal department of Marine and Fisheries. Over 11,000,000 fry were distributed in Manitoba, 2,000,000 in Saskatchewan, and the balance in Ontario.

Honeymooners Speed North as Friends Read of Wedding

Speeding northward on a motor honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Cruzen were today far beyond the happy wishes and congratulations of their friends who had learned about the quiet Sunday morning wedding of the young pair.

Yesterday's charming bride, Miss Catherine S. Voorhees, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Voorhees of North Sycamore street and it was at their home that the quiet nuptial ceremony was read at 5 o'clock by the Rev. H. G. Burgess of the Richmond Methodist Episcopal church.

All details were in a charming simplicity and only the families of the two young people were assembled for the rites with the exception of Miss Janey Wilde who offered "first aid" in the matter of eluding the watchful group.

Miss Voorhees was charmingly garbed in green crepe de chine with a pretty cloche hat in the same tint. A lovely bit of sentiment attached to the ring she wore which was her grandmother's wedding ring and had been worn by the present bride's mother, Mrs. Voorhees upon her wedding day as well.

An archway of ferns and autumn blossoms was arranged as a setting for the ceremony for which the single ring service was used.

Following congratulations and kindly wishes an elaborate wedding breakfast was enjoyed and the young Mr. and Mrs. Cruzen took their departure. While the assembled relatives were on the alert, the bride, assisted by Miss Wilde, eluded their watchfulness and soon the happy pair were on their way northward without having to undergo the shower of rice and old shoes planned by the guests. Mrs. Voorhees chose a smart little white flannel sport dress for traveling with shoes and hat and all accessories in white.

For the past year she has been in the city engineer's office at the city hall while Mr. Cruzen is assistant manager of the Western Auto Supply company. Upon their return from their honeymoon they will be established in a pretty apartment on North Sycamore street.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Voorhees, hosts and parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cruzen, parents of the groom and also his brother and sister, Lawrence Cruzen and Mrs. Grace Stewart and her son Donald, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Harman, Edward Finney and Miss Janey Wilde.

$1,000,000 IS FRUIT VALUE ON TRAIN

POMONA, Aug. 25.—Oranges grown in the district surrounding Pomona and shipped from local packing houses traveled to the midwest and east as part of the longest fruit train on record, which left San Bernardino. The Growers' Fruit Express special consisted of seventy cars of oranges and grapes, most of the former having come from this part of the valley.

Nearly 20 men were needed to care for the great caravan of the rails, which transported produce valued in excess of $1,000,000. Four large engines were required to haul the train, which left over the Santa Fe railroad.

Uses Four Engines
Of the four engines used to haul the cars of Valencia oranges and grapes the Santa Fe used two of the 3800 class type. This motive power was recently put in service on the coast line and is the largest and heaviest type of engine in service of the company. The hauling power of the locomotives is rated at 1100 tons, which is said to be equivalent to approximately fifty cars at capacity load.

Engineer Telford was at the throttle of the first engine, while two other locomotives of the 1900 class, somewhat lighter engines, were placed in the long string of cars at a distance which divided the train into four equal parts. A 3800 class engine was placed at the end of the train and to it were coupled the two cabooses for the five brakemen, freight conductors and others.

Kansas City Gets Cars
Conductor Charley Ramsey was in charge of the valuable California fruit special known as the G.F.X., which will start to distribute some of the cars at Kansas City before continuing to Chicago.

The average number of cars of citrus fruits and vegetables shipped from San Bernardino each day is estimated at 100, according to Santa Fe officials, but this is the first time on record there that one train of seventy cars has ever been shipped from San Bernardino. The previous record was said to be fifty-six cars, officials said.

Included in the long train was the first car of grapes shipped from Verdmont. The incident is emphasized by railroad officials who are watching the opening of the present grape season, with the valley territory serving as a criterion.

New Policy in Aircraft Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—A new policy of the army and navy relating to aircraft and which has been approved by the Joint Army and Navy Board, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, is outlined in orders received at the Ninth Corps Area headquarters yesterday.

The new policy deals with the duties and designations of the aircraft belonging to the three mobile forces, the army, navy and Marine Corps, and aims to prevent confusion between the aircraft of the three forces in time of war.

The peace-time advantages of the new policy, particularly, it is stated, is that it removes all obstacles to the employment of army and Marine aircraft in naval functions upon the request of the senior naval officer present. Vice versa, it says, present aircraft are to be employed in army and Marine Corps functions upon request of the senior army or Marine Corps officer present on shore.

FIND SKULL, BONES AS TRASH BURNED

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—A skull, together with a number of other human bones that gave evidence of having been burned, were found by children playing in the vicinity of Fifty-first and R streets, and today resulted in an investigation by the police to determine whether the discovery indicates the possibility of a murder.

The discovery was made by Angela Saca, 8, of 1733 Thirtieth street, who with a number of young companions was playing in the vicinity of the find. The skull was lying on top of a heap of charred rubbish which contained fragments of human bones.

Detectives Verne Dill and Jack Quinn, who are investigating the matter, gathered up the skull and the fragments of charred bones and took them to the police station. A number of scraps of paper that had been torn into small pieces before being cast into the rubbish heap along with the skull and bones, also were gathered and will be pieced together in an effort to trace the party who left the skull and bones on the rubbish heap.

THIS "DEAD" MAN VERY MUCH ALIVE

LONG BEACH, Aug. 25.—News-people reports that the body found near Trona on the Mojave desert might be that of H. B. Farr, Long Beach contractor, who disappeared from his home last winter, have resulted in Farr being found and returned to his home.

Farr was working on a ranch near Lake Elsinore and was suffering from loss of memory. When he read reports in a paper a few days ago that the body was believed to be his, he suddenly remembered who he was, and jumping to his feet, startled those around him by declaring "I'm that man!"

PEOPLE ALL OVER STATE NOW PRAISING KARNAK

The unstinted praise that has been accorded M. Andre's celebrated new medicine, Karnak, everywhere it has been introduced is finding equally strong voice throughout California as reports of its remarkable benefits are made known. Geo. F. Williams, 906 McAllister St., San Francisco, says:

"The past five years I was such a sufferer from stomach trouble and indigestion that I would be in misery for hours after every meal. I felt sluggish and lifeless, and had such dizzy attacks I would almost fall over at my work. I had to always be taking strong purgatives, too, and never knew what it was to feel well.

"On the advice of a friend I took Karnak, and now my appetite is splendid, my food digests properly and all that distress after eating is gone. The constipation and dizziness have disappeared, also, and I feel fine all over. I feel it my duty to tell others about Karnak."

Karnak is sold in Santa Ana by C. S. Kelley.—Adv.

FILM STAR IS IMPERSONATED BY SCRIBE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Frantic press agents dashed from the end of the Ferry building to the other yesterday.

Priscilla Dean had not arrived. Something had to be done. There was the procession all ready and waiting. There was the acting chief of police, there was the mayor's secretary. Gaily decked taxicabs for the star and her party were chugging away.

Hundreds of curious onlookers jostled one another for a glimpse of the Hollywood luminary.

Manager Alarmer of the theater almost wept. Then there breezed on to the scene a smiling newspaper woman.

Bravo! She should be the star. It was done. Cameras clicked while the girl reporter perked and smiled and was deluged with flowers from all directions. Edward Rahey, secretary to Mayor Rolph, with flowing grace, extended the hospitality of the city to the feminine knight of the type-writer. The urbane and smiling Captain Williams Quinn, acting chief of police, pointed the way to his private car.

Procession Begins
Once started there was no stopping the thing. Fellow reporters, masculine gender, formed themselves into the "star's" party. This one was her manager, that one her director, the other one her publicity man.

Two motorcycle policemen roared up Market street in advance of the parade. People lined the sidewalks for a sight of Priscilla Dean.

Even the Powell street "dinky" had to be stopped right in the middle of its turn to let "Priscilla" pass.

Scene at Hotel

At the Hotel St. Francis Thomas Boyle, assistant manager, came forward to greet the shining light of the screen. Out of her car stepped the girl scribe and swept through the lobby, while loungers gaped. Trooping behind her came the party and all boarded the elevator for the special suite.

Upstairs came the letdown and the grand chorus of roars. The public was satisfied and the people who worked the stunt had the time of their lives.

Then the explanation. At just the right second there came a telegram from Miss Dean. She had been working all day Friday at Balboa Beach, south of Los Angeles. She missed both the Yark and the Padre, and in her nice wet clothes boarded the Sunset Limited. She wired her maid to board the train at Glendale with dry things.

She got off the train at Glendale, but no maid was there. After some minutes the maid arrived. A desperate effort was made to overtake the train and board it at Santa Barbara, but that too failed. She eventually caught the Daylight Limited Saturday morning and arrived here last night with her producer, Hunt Stromberg, just in time to make the scheduled personal appearances at the California theater.

MONKEY OCCUPIES MONTANA PULPIT

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 25.—Claiming that there was any evolution for man, he came from an ass, and not a monkey, the Rev. Colin O'Farrell preached at the First Baptist church here last night with a monkey in the pulpit.

Twice a tether around his neck was all that kept the monkey from biting the minister, who had to shout to be heard above the constant chatter of the animal.

The monkey finally had to be taken from the auditorium because of his boisterousness.

The pastor claimed it is teachings that man came from monkey that are to be blamed for many crimes, including the murder of Robert Franks in Chicago.

'Bulky' Package Rule is Awaited

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—How big is a package? And how big must it be before it is "bulky"? These and other questions of similar nature are what government employees in San Francisco are trying to answer.

According to new regulations just received from Washington government employees, traveling on official business at federal expense may not charge taxicab bills on their accounts for trips between depots and hotels. There is one exception.

If an employee is carrying a "bulky" package that he must keep constantly in his possession, then he may ride in taxis at Uncle Sam's expense.

Government employees expect to learn what "bulky" means when their August expense accounts reach Washington.

ALLEGED 'RUM QUEEN' HELD AT FRESNO

FRESNO, Aug. 23.—"Six Shooter Kate" in the toils of the law.

Reads like the subtitle in a western film drama. But it is a fact.

The county jail record disclosed her real name as Opal Schleth, 38, a native of Pennsylvania, and accused of violating the national prohibition act. Sidney J. Shannon, deputy United States marshal, put her in jail after Samuel F. Hollins, United States commissioner, had fixed her bail at $4000 on charges of selling and possessing intoxicating liquor and maintaining a nuisance. Thomas J. Niceley, federal prohibition agent, filed the charges against her.

"Six Shooter Kate," as she is known to the inhabitants of Blainey and Graveyard meadows, up in the Dinkey creek country, is a real mountaineer bootlegger, according to Niceley, although, he added, she lives on a ranch near Auberry. She acquired her name, it is said, through her ability to handle a .38 caliber "six gun," displayed a few years ago to a crowd of six or seven men who sought to take possession of her ranch home.

Becomes Docile

Niceley said that he found her extremely docile, although that was not the experience of a ranger and a deputy constable who sought to arrest her Wednesday afternoon. She told them, it is said, that they would have a lot of hard luck trying to arrest her, had she them seek a warmer climate and took to the brush, accompanied by her 13-year-old daughter.

Advised of her flight a few minutes later, the prohibition agent saddled one of her horses, and made his way over the Mono trail to its intersection with Red Mountain trail, where he awaited her coming. Niceley waited about five minutes for her and was rewarded by her approach. All the way back down the trail she insisted that, had she known he took a short cut to head her off, she would have run him and his horse to death.

Last Sunday the deputy constable, it is said, was keeping watch on her movements, when she espied him and set her pack of dogs upon him. He found safety from them in a swamp, but was mired for several hours, while she expressed various opinions of him and the law.

Fight Leads to Arrest

Her arrest, according to Niceley, resulted from information that she had sold four quarts of illicit liquor to a couple of men who nearly got into serious trouble over it. Becoming angry in an argument, one of the men hit the other on the head with a lantern. In the investigation that followed, the officers learned that the liquor supplied by her had been the cause of the trouble. Niceley found two quarts of the same liquor at her home.

The child was also brought to Fresno and placed in the detention home. She was attired, Niceley said, in rags, and seemed glad to find refuge in the county institution.

INJURED IN FALL

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 25.—Walter Curry, 60, number 1217 North Berendo street, Hollywood, Calif., salesman for a Cincinnati shirt company, was in a serious condition in a hospital here today, suffering from injuries sustained in a fall from a hotel window here early this morning.

Disabled Vessel Is Taken In Tow

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The freighter Carrioso of the Oceanic Steamship company with a crew of 45, disabled by engine trouble last night 400 miles south of San Francisco, is in tow of the passenger steamer Sierra en route here, according to wireless advices received today.

The Red Stack tug Tatosoh put out early today for the scene and will take over the tow, to allow the Sierra to proceed.

Honey Crop Short Prices May Go Up

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 25.—Honey production in Riverside county for the present season is off approximately 80 per cent, according to W. C. Reeves, secretary of the Riverside County Bee Keepers' association. Prices, however, are remaining firm, the quotation being 13 cents a pound, carload shipments.

Secretary Reeves is home from Los Angeles, where he went in the interest of the association and met the wholesale honey dealers.

The honey crop in Utah is also below normal because of the shortage of alfalfa. Utah and other sections of the southwest usually make up the shortage when Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties fall below the normal production. This year there is a very low production of honey in all the producing sections and an advance in price is anticipated.

Lack of rain in the early spring is the cause of the shortage. There was a scarcity of wild flowers as a result of this and some of the beesmen removed their bees into or near orange and lemon groves in the Riverside district.

A review of the marketing conditions, price and other subjects of importance to the beesmen will be discussed at a meeting to be held at the Riverside County Fair bureau the first week in September, the date not yet fixed.

One of the matters to be discussed and planned is the exhibit of the Honey Producers associations of Riverside and Orange counties in the agricultural tent of the Southern California Fair, October 7-11. The fair exhibit committee will be appointed.

A large space has been set aside for the honey producers and it is planned to have an exhibit that will surpass all past efforts.

"Don't Dabble in Politics!"

If a spellbinder were to mount the stump on the day before election and shout to his assembled constituents the above admonition, "Don't dabble in politics," it is probable that surprise would be registered in every quarter.

His auditors, after a little sober reflection, might declare that they had found a man after their own hearts. That here was a candidate who was not waving the flag and fishing for votes.

It would take an unbiased, far-seeing and thoroughly informed candidate to make such a declaration. He would be taking the ballot out of the muck and unsportsmanlike conduct of politics. He would let the popular choice rest on the principles of progress, good government and economy.

Election day is well advertised and for that reason everyone talks about it. But, if you have ever stopped to think, there are ballots to be cast every day in the broad fields of business choice.

Orange county residents who are not "dabbling" with tinsel today are making or laying the foundations of wealth on the basis of progress and good judgment in business.

Harbor Development.

Industrial Development.

Agricultural Development.

Municipal and residential growth to meet these developments.

If Orange County had a platform the four items above would be its cardinal planks.

No need of "dabbling" when you can vote "straight" on such a platform. It is on this platform that:—

ROBBERS TAKE HALF TON OF DRY FRUIT

FRESNO, Aug. 25.—Another theft of drying peaches was reported to the sheriff's office yesterday, involving about a thousand pounds of fruit. Investigation of the scene of the theft, according to Deputy Sheriff Owen J. King, convinced him that the same automobile had been used there to haul the stolen fruit away as had been used in the several other thefts reported to the office.

Seven sweat boxes full of drying peaches were taken from the ranch of S. H. McBride at Blackstone and Gettysburg avenues. The contents of the boxes were apparently dumped into a sack and the emptied trays were piled up in an orderly fashion.

Belief that the solution of stopping the thefts lies in the same methods as were advocated by Sheriff William F. Jones two years ago when raisin thefts were occurring in all parts of the county was expressed yesterday by Albert Blasingame, chief deputy sheriff.

Communities, according to Blasingame, can arrange to have some man maintain a constant vigil over the drying fruits in the neighborhood and at a small expense. Because of the small force of men in the sheriff's office it is impossible to put men, he said, around in the neighborhoods where thefts have occurred.

CANDIDATES IN VOTE CLASH ARE HELD

GAFFNEY, S. C., Aug. 25.—United States Senator Nathan B. Dial and John J. McMahan, state insurance commissioner, who is opposing the senator for re-nomination, were arrested after a personal encounter between them at a campaign meeting.

Charging that McMahan had referred to him as a "dirty liar," Senator Dial was said by spectators to have advanced upon his opponent armed with a chair and to have been intercepted by the chairman of the meeting, with the help of several of those in the audience.

Mayor Jones immediately ordered a special session of the police court called to permit the candidates to plead and keep their speaking engagements next day.

Following a custom of long standing in South Carolina, Dial, McMahan and the two other candidates for the nomination, have been touring the state together and holding meetings, at which they match their wits in a series of debates.

Recently at a meeting at Greenwood between the senator and the insurance commissioner mounted to a pitch that nearly precipitated a personal encounter, the principal cause of trouble on that occasion being a statement by Mr. McMahan that Senator Dial had violated the tradition of "southern chivalry" by employing his daughter in his office in Washington.

The clash occurred shortly after the meeting here had convened. Senator Dial asked McMahan to withdraw his objectionable statement. Events then followed rapidly that the meeting broke up in a turmoil, and charges of disorderly conduct were lodged against the two candidates.

Grain Man Stricken After Wife's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Herman Eppinger Jr., wealthy San Francisco grain broker and member of a prominent California family, yesterday suffered a stroke of paralysis just after he had completed arrangements for the funeral of his wife who died the previous day at Fabiola hospital in Oakland. Eppinger is dangerously ill at his home, 320 Oakland avenue, Oakland. Eppinger, who is 59 years old, is well known in the San Francisco financial district. He comes from a family for years known as the "wheat kings of California."

Lodi Fruit Crop Brings $1,000,000

LODI, Aug. 23.—More than $1,000,000 was received by growers of all tree fruits during the season just closed, according to figures given out by large shipping interests in this district. Due to the shortage of most classes of fruits, market conditions were unusually favorable, and high prices were obtained. The quality produced in the Lodi section was consistently good. Estimates indicate that about $165,000 was received from the cherry crop, $52,000 from apricots and close to $800,000 from plums, peaches and pears.

TO HARVEST BIG CROP
WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Aug. 25.—Western Manitoba this year will harvest its largest crop since 1915, in the opinion of Premier Bracken, who has returned to Winnipeg after traveling 1,000 miles through that part of the Province in the past five days. Rye harvesting in many districts is well under way and some barley has been cut.

FATE KIND TO CHECK MAN AS HE ESCAPES

POMONA, Cal., Aug. 25.—How fate played into the hands of a would-be bad check artist who was no "piker" at the business, and saved him from arrest, was revealed here when it became known that the youth, undaunted by his failure to work the trick at the First National bank, hurried to the American National and tried again.

It was in this second attempt, also unsuccessful, that the dapper young stranger sidestepped a trap by a narrow margin for he had scarcely got out of the bank before information was flashed over the telephone that he was a crook.

When notified that a suspicious check had been presented to the First National bank, A. V. Storer of the Merchants' Credit association, instantly began notifying the other banks. In calling these institutions it so happened that he called the American National bank last. Had he chanced to call them first they would have been prepared and would probably have been able to detain the man until he could be placed under arrest.

Steps Up to Window.
The incident happened just before noon. A nicely dressed young man stepped briskly up to the window in front of Teller Edmonds, laid a check for $250 down and asked for the cash. The check contained the name of Albert P. Doull, proprietor of the Art Furniture store at 284 East Second street, and was indorsed by the name of Jesse Dolbeare, under the indorsement the words "indorse-O. K. A. P. Doull," appearing.

The teller turned to the department of bookkeeping, to see if the signatures tallied with the genuine, and, perhaps, to think whether to cash the check, and when he returned to the window the stranger had vanished.

The office of the Merchants' Credit association and the police were at once notified and while the police got busy Mr. Storer began notifying the other banks.

The youth must have gone directly to the American National bank. That he was the same there is no doubt for his description tallies with that of the operator at the First National.

At the American bank he also presented a check for $250. In this case the check was indorsed with the name of Mrs. C. A. Sheldon, La Verne. It also contained the same "O. K." and was similar in every way to the one previously presented. The teller informed the man that he wished to verify the signature and stepped to the telephone and tried to call Mrs. Sheldon. He could not reach her, however, and in the meantime the stranger made a hasty exit. At the curb he jumped into a waiting Humville and disappeared.

That he had made preparations to carry out his stunt is evident from the fact that in each case he presented checks indorsed by persons having accounts in the respective banks. How he obtained these names is a mystery.

Believed Old Hand.
Mr. Storer is of the opinion that he is an old hand at the game. In fact this trick is not a new one and is worked by professionals all over the country. In fact it was attempted in Glendale only a couple of weeks ago. Here, however, the operator was accompanied by a woman. The man in the case may have been the same one who visited Pomona yesterday.

How to stop dandruff and loss of hair with Resinol

Here is a simple, inexpensive treatment that will almost always stop dandruff and scalp itching, and keep the hair thick, live and lustrous: At night, spread the hair apart and rub a little Resinol Ointment into the scalp gently, with the tip of the finger. Repeat this until the whole scalp has been treated. Next morning, shampoo thoroughly with Resinol Soap and hot water. Work the creamy Resinol lather well into the scalp. Rinse with gradually cooler water, the last water being cold.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment easily heal eczema and similar skin eruptions. Sold by all druggists.

EVER BANKER LENT MONEY TO SELF

LAMAR, Mo., Aug. 25.—Depositors of the Thomas Egger bank, which was closed by bank examiners May 15, are signing a petition to assist Prosecuting Attorney Ralph Martin in pushing the case against Egger. Several depositors are declared to have been ready recently to swear out a complaint against Egger, but desisted when it was pointed out to them that if he were placed under arrest now he would be required to give out nothing, whereas the grand jury could force him to answer questions.

There was a secret book that held a record of $100,000 of time certificates of deposit. These deposits were not published in the bank's statements, so the bank examiners could see them. As figures stood on the bank's books when it closed Egger had around $128,000 in deposits, but the true deposits were $228,000.

Egger is declared to have withdrawn $1,100 the day before the bank closed. His daughter, Miss Anna Egger, the cashier, is said to have drawn out $500. A short time before the bank closed Egger lent to the Egger elevator, which really was to himself, $13,000. In fact, $23,000 was due from the elevator account.

MAN 'FINALLY BACK HOME' FROM WAR

KENOSHA, Wis., Aug. 25.—Reported dead in the World War and listed as buried on the battlefield of Chateau Thierry, Urban Bergeron, shell-shocked and battle-scarred veteran of the World War, who returned to his home three times and was not recognized, today is back at the home fireside. And now his family rejoices at his return.

In Oak Hill cemetery here lies the body of an unknown soldier, brought from France as that of Bergeron. On a soldier's monument is inscribed the name of Bergeron as one of Kenosha's soldier dead. Months ago Bergeron came back to his home here, heard the talk of his glorious demise in France, viewed his grave in Oak Hill, saw his name on the stone tablet, sought recognition and went away disillusioned. He came back months later and again he failed in his quest, more through his own failure to press his claims than in the attitude of his family.

On his third attempt he stood before his mother, but there was no recognition. As his car sped away, intuition told the woman she had been gazing on the face of her son, changed by the ravages of war. She called after him, but he was gone. A search of months followed and he was found in New Orleans.

Now, ill from his wounds, Bergeron seeks recovery, which, doctors say, can only come through the sympathy and care of his kin.

Water Discovery May Transform Randsburg Area

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 25.—An empire greater than the Imperial valley may be developed in the desert mining country of Randsburg.

Los Angeles capitalists have leased 2720 acres of land in the Zantli district for drilling for oil, but indications point to an immense showing of underground water values, available for irrigation purpose when fully developed. Should the oil prove to be absent, it is said that the development of water would be sufficient to irrigate thousands of acres and to turn a dry and arid country into a land of promise.

The 2740 acres of land taken over by the Los Angeles capitalists is owned by Fred Hartsook, prominent stock fancier, capitalist and owner of a string of California photographic studios.

For years in the district where oil exploitations are underway early day placer miners recovered millions in placer gold. The placer diggers were worked before the discovery of the Yellow Aster mine at Randsburg. In Red Rock canyon alone it is said that close to $4,000,000 in gold was taken from the placer surfaces. Here the miners could never get to bed-rock because of the immense under way water supply.

For years Chris Hagens and others have attempted to solve the problem of getting to bed-rock, where it is believed that gold rivaling the Klondike values will be found.

FINGER PRINTS USE HERE BY BUSINESSMEN IS URGED

System Would Save Merchants Thousands a Year Says Deputy Sheriff SAYS USES VARIED Recording of Digits Useful in Many Life Walks, Is Pointed Out

Santa Ana merchants could be saved several thousand dollars annually by the use of the finger print system, the only positive means of identification, according to Deputy Sheriff Herman J. Zabel, superintendent of the Orange county bureau of identification at the sheriff's office here.

Countless numbers of accident victims whose faces are mangled or decomposed beyond recognition can be identified if only the tip of one finger remains, Zabel contends. While the general public may believe that finger prints are used in connection with crime and criminals only, such belief is unfounded, as finger prints are used in the war, navy, civil service, immigration and post office departments, insurance companies, banking institutions, and for the identification of infants in maternity hospitals, to prevent forgeries in works of art, and for many other purposes.

The ridge surface of the outer finger joint with characteristics of a finger pattern never changes, but remains the same from birth until after death. For this reason the importance of finger print reproductions is inestimable.

Big Saving Seen

A bank in Santa Ana returns an average of twenty checks a day issued by persons who have no account with that particular institution. At an average of $10 for each check, this loss would be $200 a day, mostly for Santa Ana merchants, it was explained. And there are five banks in this city all of which surely must have similar experiences. If every merchant here insisted that a finger print be made on every check cashed for strangers, as Zabel suggests, this average would be greatly reduced.

There is in Santa Ana, however, one merchant who requires all strangers who ask for credit accounts to fill out a "family history" blank and to place their finger prints on the reverse side of the blank. If the prospective customer objects to this procedure, no credit is granted.

Zabel believes that local banks could encourage thrift among illiterate Mexicans by so setting their savings accounts with the assurance that no funds will be paid out by the bank except by an order countersigned with a finger print of the depositor.

Use Crossmarks

The few illiterates who have accounts in local banks use crossmarks for their signatures, it is said, and most of these marks are similar. If the bank had the depositor's finger print, no funds could be drawn from the account except when the withdrawal order contained a reproduction of the same print.

Appealing for a universal finger print system for recording all persons in the United States, the individual prints to be filed in a national bureau of records, the Orange county identification expert declared that such a system was used in the republic of Argentina with the result that last year out of all the deaths during those twelve months only one accident victim in that country could not be

FORMER PHYSICIAN BECOMES FIRST PROSECUTING PORTIA IN SAN FRANCISCO HISTORY

THERESE MEIKLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—San Francisco's first prosecuting Portia is Therese Meikle, once a physician.

Dr. Meikle now is Prosecutor Meikle, otherwise assistant district attorney.

She is the first feminine prosecutor in San Francisco women's court.

"The medical profession, I used to think, was the most interesting on earth," Prosecutor Meikle said. "Now I am convinced that nothing can surpass the study and operation of legal justice."

Diamond Dropped 15 Floors to Curb Found Untouched

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Finding a valuable diamond ring dropped from the fifteenth floor of an office building into a throng of pedestrians would ordinarily be regarded as a forlorn hope, but Bert McDonald of the firm of McDonald Bros., with offices on the fifteenth floor of The Chronicle building, did it.

"It was nothing," he declared after recovering the gem, worth $350. "I dropped the diamond rings out of my office in Australia several years back and found the jewels a few moments later. Lady Luck is sure kind to me."

McDonald was cleaning the gem close to the window and as he finished his work he tossed the ring toward a box of sawdust to dry. It hit the side of the box and bounced off the window. Five minutes later he found the ring on Kearny street.

SISKIYOU TRAIN ROBBER SEEN AT ASHLAND

ASHLAND, Ore., Aug. 25.—One of five men who were seen traveling south from here Sunday afternoon in an automobile was positively recognized as Roy D'Aumont, Siskiyou tunnel train robber, according to information of police here.

Railroad agents were notified that the automobile was abandoned at Hilda, Cal., just across the Oregon border.

There was no verification of the report from Marysville, Cal., that special railroad agents had killed one and captured others of the gang.

In the sensational robbery October 11, southbound mail train No. 13 was blown up in tunnel No. 13, in the Siskiyou mountains.

It was the most daring and blood-thirsty crimes perpetrated in Oregon for many years.

A mail clerk was killed by the explosion, while three of the train crew were wantonly killed by gun fire of the robbers. No loot, however, was obtained.

The D'Aumont brothers, Ray and Roy, 23 years old, twins, and Hugh, 19, were indicted by both county and federal grand juries.

Rewards of $14,000 are outstanding for their capture.

Arrest Veteran On Assault Charge In L. A. Shooting

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Accepting the invitation of a chance acquaintance, William T. Murray, 23, was shot twice through the abdomen early today and probably fatally wounded when he visited the room of John Egan, 40, a disabled war veteran.

Booked by police on a charge of assault with intent to murder, Egan claims that the shooting occurred in a scuffle when Murray attempted to hold him up.

TAXPAYERS TO BEACH CITY TO LEARN FATE AT TONIGHT

Rate to be Based on Valuation of $17,988,215 by City Trustees

The fate of the taxpayers will be decided at tonight's meeting of the city council.

Although an ordinance fixing the tax rate was given its first reading at the last council meeting, two weeks ago, the rate was left blank and will be filled in when the ordinance is given its final reading tonight, according to Z. B. West Jr., city attorney.

West stated he could not disclose the rate which he believed would be adopted at the meeting. However, he announced that it would be based on an assessed valuation of $17,988,215. The ordinance to be passed tonight will name the rates for all city taxes to be paid during the coming year.

An important paving project also is to be brought to the attention of the council, it was learned today. A resolution will be presented which provides for the paving of the various curved streets in the North Broadway Park subdivision. This would extend the present North Broadway pavement around several curves to the Hannah street bridge at the edge of the city limits and, incidentally, would connect the proposed North Flower street extension, it was said.

Contracts are to be awarded as a result of tonight's meeting, it is expected, for laying sewers and for paving East Santa Clara avenue from Bush street to Lincoln street, creating another paved thoroughfare to be used as an entrance to the city. The "cross streets," Spurgeon and Santiago streets, also will be paved at the same time, according to present plans.

Plans for a new sewer district to be created in the western part of the city will be laid before the council. The proposed district lies between Fourth street and Myrtle street from Western avenue to a point 1000 feet west of Dickey street.

WADING GIRL IS SWEEPED TO DEATH

MERCED, Aug. 25.—Sixteen-year-old Lucille Dooling of Hollywood was swept to death in Vernal Falls, Yosemite, when she lost her footing while wading in a pool at the brink of the falls and was carried over the edge of the current.

The girl had been wading in Merced river with three girl companions for some time, when she lost her balance and suddenly plunged headlong into the seething maelstrom of the stream. Her friends watched the body disappear over the chasm before even thought of aid could occur.

The lifeless body was recovered at the bottom of the 200-foot drop within a few minutes after the fatal misstep.

Watsonville Pair Married 50 Years

WATSONVILLE, Aug. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel J. Mann celebrated their golden wedding anniversary here with a reception at their home, 67 Brennan street. Scores of warm friends thronged the hospitable home from 3 to 5 o'clock and expressed congratulations and wishes for many more years of happy married life for the pair who after a half century of life together still are as devoted as sweethearts.

Mann was born in Santa Clara in 1853 and came to the Pajara valley with his parents when he was nine years old. He has lived here ever since. Mrs. Mann was born in the Pajara valley. She was Miss Clara Ann Rowe, the daughter of an early pioneer couple. They were married in Watsonville August 23, 1874 and have lived in this community from that day to this. The house in which they began housekeeping is still standing on Rodriguez street.

They have been members of the First Christian church here since youth and still are active in its work.

Four children were born to them. Only one, Mrs. Mack Jones of this city, is living. They have ten grandchildren and two great grandchildren, all living in the Pajara valley.

Huntington Beach and San Bernardino to Be Meccas for Union Men

The cogs of commerce will cease grinding next Monday while the nation pays tribute to its working men on Labor Day.

In Orange county the principal celebration will take place at Huntington Beach where a parade calculated to be one of the largest ever seen at the beach city, has been planned. Three bands will lend a gay note to the celebration and the Huntington Beach chamber of commerce expects to entertain one of the largest crowds in the history of the town, according to J. A. Armitage, secretary of the chamber of commerce there.

Stores To Be Closed

All local storekeepers have been asked to close their houses throughout the day, by a letter in today's mail from the Merchants and Manufacturers' association.

All banks here will be closed. Although it was stated there would be several picnics staged at the Orange County park Monday, none of these will come under the auspices of the Central Labor Council, or any of the local unions.

The Huntington Beach parade will start moving at 11 a. m., and will be routed over the various important streets of the city, ending at the beach, where basket dinners will be served. The Chamber of Commerce will furnish hot coffee and other drinks. During the afternoon there will be dancing, followed by a beach party which is expected to last throughout the day.

"We expect to see 20,000 visitors here from all parts of Orange county next Monday, and we have made plans to entertain this number in a bigger way than we have ever attempted before," said Armitage.

Celebration at San Bernardino

Scores of laboring men, members of local trade unions, will go to San Bernardino Monday, for a celebration which has been announced for that city. Riverside and San Bernardino are combining forces and finances this year, it was said, to stage a celebration in San Bernardino.

All Orange county labor unions have been invited as guests, and according to information from the local Council, approximately 200 holders of local union cards will go there for their yearly celebration.

It was explained that no effort to hold a celebration here this year would be made, in order to allow the local unions to stage a much larger celebration here next year.

"We have been celebrating here for the past three years and we are going to rest up a bit this year, but next year we will have a big celebration," stated J. A. Trendal, secretary of the local council.

THIEVES RAID FRUIT FARMS AT FRESNO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Announcement that Fresno ranchers are being victimized by fruit thieves was made by Albert Blasigame, chief deputy sheriff, at a press conference here today.

The picture man appeared over come by his emotion. "That's not my affair," snapped Dawes, putting on speed. Then he hesitated. "Will you lose that $600 if I don't stop?" he asked.

Receiving a fervent affirmative he agreed to stand still in the waiting room for a minute.

True to his words, General Dawes posed in the glow of four great lights while hundreds of persons watched. But—

As if summoned from nowhere, two neatly dressed strangers appeared beside the candidate. Their eyes were long and black. Their faces were white with powder. Their lips were made up.

They were two distinguished motion picture actors. No one, however, had time to verify the report.

General Indignant

"Who are these, where did they come from, and what are they doing here?" Dawes demanded.

"Don't worry, general," soothed the motion picture director. "They are going to stand with you in the picture."

"They are not," said the general. And he headed for the Connecticut-bound train.

"They're not going to make a damned movie man out of me," said General Dawes.

"General," said a spectator, "I'm afraid you've lost the motion picture vote."

"I don't want the motion picture vote," he snapped. "I want the common sense vote."

AIR SINGED AS DAWES 'MOVIE REEVE' ON

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Underlying pipe and all, General Charles G. Dawes came to New York and treated forty or fifty photographers and reporters, a thousand or so innocent bystanders and two motion picture actors to the shock of their lives.

The general was "double damned" if he'd be interviewed. He refused emphatically to stand for promiscuous handshaking. He consigned motion picture taking "to hell."

The fight was on as soon as the general stepped on the platform. Apparently obedient to the camera men, he paused for a picture. The photographers set their tripods and looked for the general. Already he was half way up the platform.

Beside the candidate trotted two of his chiefs. Just ahead almost in tears, ran a tall man who had arranged for a motion picture of "Dawes in Action."

General Contrary

"But, general," he was saying, "it cost us $600 to set up the klieg lights just to picture you for thousands of men and women and little children."

The picture man appeared over come by his emotion. "That's not my affair," snapped Dawes, putting on speed. Then he hesitated. "Will you lose that $600 if I don't stop?" he asked.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23.—The "sheik," the "asphalt Arab," and the "drugstore cowboy" came into their own here today.

Ruby Miller, English actress, now living in Hollywood, says they at least have the right idea of love-making.

"The greatest business in the world is love-making," Miss Miller said, "but Southern California men don't know how. Marital unhappiness will subside and contentment will take its place only when American men learn."

"The so-called 'sheik' may be long-haired and side-burned but he is learning. I would advise men to pattern themselves after the 'sheik.'"

S. F. MERCHANTS ON SELLING CAMPAIGN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—San Francisco merchants went on a selling spree today expecting to do a million dollars worth of business each day for the entire period of buyers' week.

More than 2,000 buyers were reported in the city today, many coming from Annapolis, Alaska and Mexico, but the majority of them from western trade centers.

The week officially opened today with a luncheon at which Mayor James Rolph, Jr., delivered the first sales argument. Tonight there will be a banquet with more oratory and more sales talk.

A good time will be had by all until next Saturday night, when the annual selling fiesta comes to a close.

Lazy Man Aged 27 Beats Stepmother

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—When Mrs. Theresa Donati, 50, took her 27-year-old stepson, Louis Donati, to task for not trying to find employment, he attacked her with a broomstick and beat her on the head at the Donati home, 60 San Antonio place. The woman was treated at the Harbor Emergency hospital. She later appeared before Police Judge Lazarus and swore to a warrant for her stepson's arrest on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

POLLS TO OPEN TOMORROW AT 6 A. M. AND CLOSE AT 7 P. M.

For First Time Ku Klux Will Have Complete List of Candidates

CONTESTS INTEREST

Hartranft-Kline-Allen Race Expected to Be One of Election's Closest

Tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock polls in Orange county will open for the primary election. When the polls close at 7 o'clock the die will have been cast in a pre-election contest that has been unique in the history of the county.

For the first time, the governor of California entered into an endorsement of state legislative candidates.

For the first time, the Ku Klux Klan was pointed out as having endorsed a complete ticket.

The Assemblyship.

The campaign was marked by an attack upon Dr. C. D. Ball, Santa Ana physician and present assemblyman, by Governor Richardson. Dr. Ball is a candidate for the Republican nomination for assemblyman.

Soon after it became known that Dr. Ball was a candidate, Governor Richardson publicly avowed his support of the candidacy of S. C. Hartranft, Pullerton orange grower. Within four days of the ending of the period for filing nominations, announcement was made of the entrance of W. B. Allen, Anaheim real estate man, into the race. In a statement issued last week, District Attorney Alex. P. Nelson declared that Allen has the backing of the Ku Klux Klan.

During the campaign Governor Richardson issued a statement declaring that at the legislature Dr. Ball was lined up with the "spend-thrifts and with the notorious wet politicians from San Francisco."

In reply, Dr. Ball issued a statement declaring that the only kind of economy that he had opposed was economy that sacrificed the lives of the feeble-minded girls, that put the care of hopelessly insane patients upon the county, that showed legitimate state functions off upon the counties.

Saturday, Hartranft declared the issue in the assemblyship to be a question as to whether Orange county would be represented at Sacramento by a man responsible to the Ku Klux Klan or a man responsible to the voters at large. Hartranft said that W. B. Allen, his rival for the assemblyship, had been pointed out by the district attorney as supported by the Klan.

The Senatorship.

In the Republican ranks a contest for the nomination for state senator will be ended tomorrow. Just before filing of nomination papers closed, S. C. Evans of Riverside withdrew from the race, and at the same time Supervisor T. B. Talbert, of Huntington Beach, entered the race, making two contestants, the other being Chester M. Kline of San Jacinto. According to the district attorney, Kline has been endorsed by the Ku Klux Klan.

This contest extends over three counties, Orange, Riverside and Imperial.

For Congressman.

The Republicans have the choice of two candidates for the Republican nomination—Congressman Phil D. Swing of El Centro and B. P. Sample of San Diego.

The issue between these two men was clearly drawn immediately upon Sample's entrance into the race. Sample having taken the place of Sheriff Powers of San Diego, who withdrew, Swing has stood squarely for the all-American canal as a part of the Boulder dam project because through it, he holds, the water conserved by the dam could be used entirely on

PARK WOMEN TO SHOW DAHLIAS ON SEPT. 19

BUENA PARK, Aug. 25.—Plans are rapidly going forward for the second annual Orange county dahlia show to be given by the Woman's club here September 19 in the Masonic temple.

The judges have been announced as G. Stephens,acher, Alhambra, president of the Dahlia Society of Southern California; T. D. Robertson, Fullerton; William Schumacher, Buena Park. Any resident of Orange county may make entries.

All entries must be home grown. All cut flower exhibits, unless specified by the owners, will be offered for sale but delivery will only be made at the close of the show. All awards will be made prior to the opening of the show. All applications for entries must be made by September 15.

The doors will open at 2 p. m. and at 8:30 p. m. The program in the afternoon will begin at 3 o'clock and in the evening at 8:30 o'clock.

La Habra Briefs

LA HABRA, Aug. 25.—James Balcom underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Murphy Memorial hospital at Whittier Friday morning.

Coming down to attend the annual reunion of Pulverizer Dees, which is held every year at Orange county park, and of whom there are over 200 in Southern California alone, Dick Bristow and Paul Nystrom arrived Thursday from Turlock.

In advance of the coming event the family reunion held that evening at the Bristow home in honor of the home coming of their father and a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bristow, who have just returned from their honeymoon. The affair took the form of a turkey dinner with accompaniments of delicious melons and grapes from the northern ranch. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Strong and Miss Pearl Phillips, who have just returned from a two months' visit in Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bristow and sons, James, Theodore, Everett, and daughter, Ethel, who acted as hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bristow of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Phillips, and Paul Nystrom of Turlock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnett with their mother, Mrs. T. D. Barnett, of Whittier left Sunday for a few days' visit with relatives in Yucala.

Guests at the Milton Keeler some this week are their niece and nephew, Prof. and Mrs. R. Funk, of Paso Robles. The two families will visit in San Diego and other places of interest before Prof. and Mrs. Funk return to Paso Robles where Prof. Funk is connected with the schools.

Los Alamitos

LOS ALAMITOS, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Dean Jewell and daughter spent Wednesday with friends in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Loranger and daughter were dinner guests on Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jones at Buena Park. The dinner was given in honor of Mr. Jones' niece, Miss Irene Allman, who has made her home with them the past year, but is leaving on August 31 for her home in Fort Worth, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin and Elizabeth, accompanied by Mr. Jack DeForest and son of Long Beach, drove to their ranch near Oceano Wednesday.

Mrs. William Verbeck of Compton was in Los Alamitos Friday.

Mrs. K. V. Bennis and Mrs. G. J. Strodtroff returned Thursday from a two weeks' motor trip to northern points.

Mrs. Frank Tassell was a guest at a luncheon given by a Compton friend on Friday.

The Wilmer family, who have occupied the Harker cottage on Florista street for some months past, moved to Portland, Ore., recently.

The filling station and garage at the corner of Florista street and the boulevard changed hands a few days ago, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Robinson moving to Long Beach. The new proprietor is N. M. Dows, who comes here from the San Joaquin valley.

Mrs. Robert Gilechrist and son, Don, of Sunset Beach visited in the George Martin home on Friday.

NEW OPERATOR AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Dr. and Mrs. T. Oren Watson and family of Los Angeles arrived here recently for a two weeks' visit in the city. Mr. Watson is employed by the Pacific Electric railroad and will act as relief telegraph operator during the vacation of R. R. Merwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson have pitched their tent on the beach by the pier where campers are allowed to camp until the municipal auto camp ground is established.

"We have spent a good many weeks traveling about and camping out at the various places," Watson said, declaring that this city was one of the prettiest towns he had visited.

Whittier Man Is Fined Heavily By Beach Judge

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 25.—Mack Smith of Whittier was fined $250 and given a suspended sentence of ninety days in jail in Judge G. H. Morrison's court. Smith was arrested last Sunday for driving an auto while intoxicated. He was held responsible for a collision with another machine, which resulted in the injury of Mrs. Jesus Sanchez. Mrs. Sanchez, first believed fatally hurt, was pronounced out of danger this week.

DEFENSE DAY PLANS MADE BY POST

ANAHEIM, Aug. 25.—Tentative plans for the participation of Anaheim in the National Defense Day program of the war department, which is to be held September 12, were adopted at a meeting of the mayor's committee, which was held in the American Legion club room.

One of the big features of the celebration will be the parade in which every civic, veteran and fraternal organization in the city is requested to take part. The women of the city are especially asked to co-operate in this program. The parade will be held in the evening in order to give all the citizens an opportunity to co-operate, without in any way interfering with the regular business of the day.

An invitation has been extended to the city officials of Anaheim and every other city in the county to take part in the celebration, and the officials of other communities in the county are requested to extend the invitation to the people of the respective communities.

The celebration will serve to commemorate the anniversary of the start of the great World War, which was the first major operation conducted entirely by American army troops.

A. E. F. It will also be the occasion of a farewell in honor of General John J. Pershing (Black Jack) who retires from active service at midnight of September 12, after many years of honorable service in the United States army. This is in accordance with the regulations of the war department.

The committee is desirous of having the co-operation of every man, woman and child in the community in carrying out the Defense Day test, which will be conducted without any expense to anyone.

Every school in the county will be asked to assist in the celebration of Defense Day, the committee expecting to make this the greatest celebration ever held in Anaheim or Orange county.

Beach City Hall TO CLOSE TUESDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—The city hall here will be closed Tuesday, on account of election day.

Mr. C. D. Hooper, an employee at the local gas office, spent the week-end motoring to Camp Bally. He was accompanied by Miss Gertrude Dee of Santa Barbara, who arrived Saturday afternoon to spend the coming week with Mrs. Hooper.

Women of the Macabees, women's benefit association, will hold a cooked food sale here Wednesday. It was announced today by Mrs. Earl Crawford, president of the organization. The sale will be held in the former McIntosh meat market building. Special features are being planned by the women of the organization for their meetings which are held the first and third Thursday of every month.

William E. Crawford, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crawford, of 231 First street this city, was today recovering from an illness of several days.

Mrs. Earl Sullivan of Venice spent Friday and Saturday visiting with her mother, Mrs. Sullivan is employed at the Eader bakery.

PROMENADE IN NUDE LEADS TO ARREST

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—George Smirnis, alias George Stevens, 35, an Asiatic cook employed by a local restaurant, was today lodged in the local jail pending his arraignment before Judge C. W. Warner, on charges of indecent exposure.

According to local officers, Smirnis was arrested on the beach late Saturday evening while taking a walk with his clothes under his arm. "Promenading in the nude" is getting to be quite fashionable here it is pointed out. Two men have been arrested here during the past few months for attempting to swim without the formality of donning a bathing suit.

Smirnis told officers that he was sick and was taking the walk for his health. He also admitted that he had seen another man in swimming without a bathing suit some time before, who had told him that "it was alright if you could get in and out of the water without being caught."

Smirnis' promenade came to a halt when he was spotted by Motorcycle Officer Ray Bradfield.

H. F. Martin, 35 years old, was expected to be arraigned before City Recorder C. W. Warner this morning on charges of drunkenness. He was arrested Sunday.

L. A. SWIMMER WINS RACE AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Tom Blake, swimming star for the Los Angeles Athletic club, and holder of numerous records on the Pacific coast, won the half mile ocean swim around the local pier here Saturday. Wallace O'Connor, of the Venice plunge, was a close second with Charles Shields of the San Diego Rowing club third.

Considerable rivalry was displayed in the race which was one of the fastest seen here. O'Connor recently returned from the Olympic games in Europe where he was a member of the American swimming team. The fact that the seas were running heavy added additional interest to the swim.

The race for the women around the pier was deemed too rough for the swimmer. By the committee in charge of the meet, Jack Kilburn, swimming instructor at the plunge here, was in charge of the race. The woman's race was held in the plunge.

Mrs. Bobbie Middleton, of Redondo won the large silver loving cup offered for first place in the race, after winning easily in a six-lap swim the length of the plunge. Clarice "Chick" Higgins, local girl swimmer, was a close second, with Miss Aldeen Higbee of this city third.

One of the largest crowds that has gathered here was at the entertainment Saturday. Several hundred people flocked to the pier to watch the swimmers as they battled their way around the end of the pier. The plunge also was crowded when the women's race was called.

Final tests for Red Cross life saving certificates were also given in the plunge during the afternoon by Jack Donovan, of Los Angeles. Donovan is the head of the Red Cross life saving corps of the Red Cross in Southern California, and is official tester for the life saving apparatus in all cities in California.

Those present at the luncheon were Edwin T. Keiser, guest of honor; E. A. Suter, president of the local Realty Board; Carl S. Bergoy, B. M. Bradley, James Macklin, S. E. Andrews, George Berry, Charles P. Patton, H. S. Hancock, F. L. Slusher, J. A. Armitage, Samuel Clapp, E. H. Boyer, E. B. Stevens, Chris King, George Souter, J. K. McDonald and L. R. Eldenour.

Some business was also taken up at the meeting of the Realty Board and the names of George Souter and F. L. Slusher were proposed to the members as associate members of the organization.

Beach Lions to Co-operate in New Inter-Club Move

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Another step promising co-operation between the various civic clubs of this city was taken here recently when it was voted by the chamber of commerce that five of the leading organizations should each be asked to appoint three representatives to meet with the directors of the chamber of commerce and assist them.

A committee has been appointed by the Lions' club that announcement has not as yet been made of the appointment of representatives from the other organizations. The Lions' club, the Rotary club, the American Legion, the Realty Board, and the city trustees are to be represented.

Clark H. Reid, principal of the grammar school and president of the Lions' club, William Applefield and R. J. Prescott will represent the Lions' club at the meeting.

H. B. Lions to Meet With S. A. Club Thursday

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—There will be no meeting of the Lions club here this week. Instead all members of the local club will attend the meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club Thursday. Announcement of the visit to the Santa Ana club was made at the last meeting of the club here.

Special stunts and speeches are being prepared by the local members for the occasion. It is expected that about forty of the local members will attend the Santa Ana club meeting.

H. B. Legion to Give Big Dance

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Headed by C. M. Wardman, the American Legion dance committee here is busy working out the details for the "Night of Surprises" dance to be given at the local dance hall here Thursday night. Others on the committee are L. A. Olstead, W. E. Childs, and J. L. Robertson.

The American Legion dances are becoming very popular, according to the reports of attendance. Winter dances, balloon dances, and other feature dances have been given during the past several weeks with great success. Nearly 500 people were present at the balloon and William Tell dance given here last Thursday night, according to C. C. Musgrave, proprietor of the hall. The proceeds from the dance are to be used toward the erection of a new clubhouse for the American Legion.

Boy Scouts Give Demonstrations of Scoutcraft Work

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Local Boy Scouts, headed by their Scoutmaster C. E. Morris, Saturday staged one of the best and most interesting exhibitions of Scout work ever offered to the public here. The Scouts demonstrated practically every branch of Scouting. Several skits, including a camping trip, and stunts about the fireside were also included in the program. Signaling and first aid work was put on by the Westminster troop of Scouts.

During the evening the Camp Fire Girls, under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Howard, presented a clever exhibition. Vaudeville stunts, orchestra music, and airplane stunts were given during the afternoon and evening in connection with the weekly celebration. The play, "The Little Red School House" presented by the Camp Fire Girls was a decided "hit." Songs and dances were also given by the girls.

BEACH REALTY MEN HOSTS TO KEISER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Nearly twenty members of the local realty board were the hosts to Edwin T. Keiser, state commissioner of real estate here Saturday during one of the week-end celebrations being staged by the city. The final celebration will be given next Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

American soil to develop American desert. Sample declared that the all-American canal feature was holding up the passage of the bill, and he declared for a Boulder dam bill without that feature. Swing declared that without the all-American canal the water conserved by the dam would go to lands in Mexico owned by Harry Chandler of the Los Angeles Times and his associates.

Supervisory Contests

There are two contests for supervisor. In the first district Supervisor S. H. Finley is opposed by Bert E. Dawson.

On this contest every registered voter can vote. The Democrats have no candidate for state senator, assemblyman or congressman. At least, none is printed on the ballot. Today an appeal was issued by Imperial county Democratic county central committee to write in the name of Swing.

The second and fifth district have hold-over supervisors. In the fourth district there is but one nominee, Supervisor Leop Whit-sell.

In the third district a hard fight has been waged between Supervisor William Schumacher of Buena Park, seeking re-election, and Perry Woodward of Fullerton. The district attorney's statement declared that Woodward had the K. K. support.

Central Committee

In every district in the county a contest has been staged for Republican central committee. It is recognized that an effort is being made to wrest the membership of that organization from the men now on it.

In the first district, Santa Ana, the alignment has been clearly drawn. On the one hand are Dr. R. A. Cushman, W. C. May, W. P. Menton, Stanley Reinhaus, Charles D. Swanner, J. C. Wallace and Z. B. West Jr., who have issued a statement declaring themselves free from obligations to any "clan, clique or organization." Opposed to them are W. A. Flood, H. A. Gerrard, William Iverson, E. T. Ma-teer, J. P. Smith, J. G. Sutherland, N. E. Wray.

In the second district a ticket of three is composed of Lew Blodgett of Huntington Beach, R. E. Lar-ter of Westminster, and R. D. Rich-ards of Seal Beach. The opposi-tion is asking that the names of Charles G. Boster and J. W. Cook be written in.

In the third district the align-ment is plain, the ticket that the district attorney says has the en-dorsement of the K. K. K. being C. E. Barr, F. M. Eden, M. C. Fiscus, F. H. Lyon and Victor Lamont.

In the fourth district the three present committeemen, Willard Smith, Dr. J. D. Thomas and Clyde Newton are seeking re-election. The opposition ticket is H. Z. Adams, W. O. Hazeman, A. E. Koepsel and L. A. Stevenson, said by the dis-trict attorney to have K. K. K. backing. William Feldner is a candidate.

In the fifth district names ap-earing on the ballot are Guy Wil-iams, San Juan Capistrano, J. A. Porter, Newport Beach, and Harry Williamson, Costa Mesa. Tickets issued by the opposition bear the request that Fred W. Conkey and Harry Williamson be voted for.

The Klan issue has become a warm issue in the northern part of the county. Coming close upon city elections, feeling stirred up during those elections and since then will reach a culminating point tomorrow.

Chinese Cook at Laguna Pleases Crippled Kiddies

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 25.—Foo has been very busy lately cooking for a number of children who are vacationing at Laguna Beach. Foo is the Chinese cook at the home of R. W. Kirkley and the children in question are patients of the Los Angeles Orthopaedic Hospital of which Mr. Kirkley is a director.

Ten children enjoyed Mr. Kirkley's wonderful hospitality last week, there are ten children there at the present time and another consignment will arrive when the present visitors go back. They are in charge of a nurse and as-sistant and get excellent care. Foo sees to it that they are well fed and supplies innumerable dainties, not to forget his excellent chop suey.

Mr. Kirkley is very much inter-ested in the work done by this hospital and he believes that a happy frame of mind will do won-ders while doctors are straighten-ing out the wasted and twisted limbs of these unfortunate little children.

Investigate Rumor of Whiskey Ships Off Calif. Coast

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 25.—Federal investigation was started today of a fleet of large ships lying outside the 12-mile limit which are believed to be engaged in the wholesale manufacture of "Scotch" and "Canadian" whiskey. Several huge cargoes of bottled goods labeled and branded with Scotch and Canadian marks have been seized in attempted landings here lately, and some have been landed. It was at first believed the liquor landed was genuine imported stuff, but clues have been received by the federal investigators which in-dicates it is of marine manufac-ture.

Sues to Recover Judgment Amount

Seeking to recover $504.55 which he alleged had been awarded him by a previous court judgment, Frank Tanner was plaintiff in an action against George L. Schuppert, on file today in the superior court.

The prior judgment, according to Tanner's complaint, was obtained in the eighth district court of Iowa, which includes Johnson and Iowa counties.

Attorney Alfred A. Appling, of Santa Ana, represents Tanner.

FINGER PRINTS USE HERE IS URGED

identified. Last year in the United States 17,000 dead were buried un-identified.

At Darjeeling a large number of Chinese coolies were employed for the Mount Everest expedition. They all looked alike and their names were nearly the same, so the paymaster took finger prints for his pay book to compare with those taken when each employe applied for his wages.

And right here in Orange county finger print comparisons several times have proved that arrested "vags" or "drunks" or dope fiends who were lodged in jail here were in reality criminals who had escaped from prison or who were wanted for serious offenses in other parts of the nation.

Identified as Fugitive

On April 1, 1913, a horribly mutilated body and a bloody hatchet were found in a gum grove near Buena Park. Sheriff Sam Jernigan and Coroner Charles D. Brown journeyed many miles to follow up clues which they thought might lead to the identification of the victim of the murder. A description of the dead man was published in every newspaper in the state, and this brought no response to those seeking to establish the identity of the corpse.

Realizing the possibility that the murdered man may have been a criminal or escaped convict, Sher-iff Jernigan at 2 a. m. of the day after the body was to be buried, urged Herman Zabel to go to the district taking establishment and secure the finger prints of the corpse. After the ghastly ordeal, Zabel quickly figured the classification of the dead man's finger prints and, referring to his cabinet of classifications filed in the sheriff's office, found a similar classifica-tion. The undisputable finger print reproduction identified the "hatchet murder" victim as Nunzio Spampinato, a fugitive from jus-tice who was wanted by Los An-geles authorities on a charge of murder.

Frees Innocent Man

Several months ago officers of Fullerton arrested a man who re-sembled a police bulletin photo-graph and description of a wanted criminal. While the man was in jail in Santa Ana, Zabel used the finger print test. The minute ridges on the finger surface of the prisoner did not compare satisfac-torily with the classification in the bulletin, so the innocent man was freed.

Four years ago Mose Gibson, when confronted with a compari-son of his finger prints, freshly taken, with a photograph of bloody prints found at the scene of the murder of Roy Trap, wealthy Full-erton rancher, confessed one of the most fiendish and bloody his-tories in the criminal annals of the country. Although it seemed no person could identify him as having a part in any crime, the finger print evidence caused Gib-son to admit that he had commit-ted seven murders, had conducted

"UNGUARDED WOMEN" AT YOST TONIGHT.

A little bit of everything awaits picture audiences in "Unguarded Women," the picture which opens tonight at Walker's theater.

Bebe Daniels, Richard Dix and Mary Astor are featured in the leading roles of the picture which opens on the battlefields of the World War, carrying audiences from there all the way across the world to the fashionable homes of the rich on Long Island and then back again to Peking, China, where most of the action of the produc-tion takes place.

For those who like romance, there's plenty of it. For those who like a real snappy up-to-the-minute picture, there's Bebe Daniels as vivacious Breta Ranning doing all sorts of unconventional things to keep them entertained and for those who like thrills, the war scenes will prove the real thing.

There's drama, humor, pathos, heart-interest and all of the rest in goodly quality. You'll find everything a real good "picture" ought to have in "Unguarded Women." There's something in it for everyone.

ASK DEMOCRATS TO 'WRITE IN' SWING'S NAME

Today a message was received from the Democratic County Central committee of Imperial county appealing to Democratic voters of Orange county to write in the name of Phil D. Swing for con-gressman.

No Democrat filed nomination papers for congressman, and the ballot to be given registered Demo-crats tomorrow will appear blank.

The Imperial committee passed a resolution addressed to Demo-crats of the entire eleventh dis-trict, in which it is stated that Swing has served his district well and that upon his re-election rests the success of the Boulder dam and all-American canal project.

S. A. BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT ON TUESDAY

A vocal solo, "One Fine Day," from Puccini's "Madame But-terfly," sung by Norina Coleman, dramatic soprano; and selections from "Cavaleria Rusticana," "Il Trovatore" and "Carmen," will be among the highlights of the eighth public concert that the Santa Ana Municipal Band of Fifty will present tomorrow night at Birch park, according to announcement made today.

The complete program as pre-pared by Director D. C. Cianfoni, follows:

March, "Venezia"....D. C. Cianfoni
Overture, "Stradella"....Flotow
Vocal solo, "One Fine Day," from "Madame Butterfly"....Puccini Nordina Coleman, dramatic soprano; Earl Fraser, accom-panist.
Selection, "Cavaleria Rusti-cana"....Mascagni
Trombone solo, "For All Etern-ity"....Masccheroni
D. C. Cianfoni.

Intermission.
Selection, "Il Trovatore"....Verdi
Vocal, "E lucean le stelle" from "La Tosca"....Puccini Joseph Pantaleone, tenor.
Selection, "Carmen"....Bizet
Vocal, "Musetta Song" from "La Boheme"....G. Puccini
Vatzer "Jolly Fellows"....R. Vollstedt

OVERSHINER URGED AS 'WRITE-IN' MAN

B. E. Tarver, chairman of the Democratic County Central com-mittee, issued a request to Demo-crats of the first supervisory district to write in the name of Chas. D. Overshiner at tomorrow's primaries. Only four names ap-pear on the ballot, and five are to be elected. Tarver suggests that Overshiner be named as the fifth.

Tarver suggested that Demo-cratic voters in the fifth district write in the name of S. W. Nau for central committeeman instead of voting for H. C. Sloan, whose name is printed on the ballot. Nau was in the East at the time nomination papers were filed, and that is the reason his name does not appear on the printed ballot.

There was no disappointment. In fact, Tom's No. 50 was better than any of the previous forty-nine. A wee touch of drama, lots of smiles, and all sorts of thrills, tells the story of "The Heart Buster," a romance of the Arizona cow country.

Esther Halston is the girl who has the feminine lead and she cannot be too highly praised for her performance. As a sweet little miss torn between love and duty she is charming even when she is doing wrong. Others in the cast are Cyril Chadwick, William Court-right, Frank Currier, and Tom Wil-son.

"REVELATION" OPENS AT WALKER'S TONIGHT.

Hailed as the first story of the year, "Revelation," by Mabel Wagnalls, begins an engagement of four days at Walker's theater to-night.

This picture, which tells the story of a girl model of the Paris Montmartre who found her soul when posing as the Madonna of an old legend, is said to be the greatest directorial achievement of George D. Baker, who has had such successes to his credit as "Slave of Desire," "Toys of Fate" (with Nazimova) and many others. A really all-star cast has been used in the production. It in-cludes such players as Viola Dana, Monte Blue, Lew Cody, Marjorie Daw, Frank Currier, Edward Con-nelly, George Siegmann and Kath-leen Key.

THE NERVOUS WRECK

by E. J. Rath

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The Nervous Wreck, an eccentric young cartoonist, is driving Sally Morgan from her father's ranch to the station when they run out of gasoline. At the point of a gun the Wreck takes five gallons from a passing car.

Later Charlie McSweeney, foreman of a ranch along the route, hides the Wreck's car and takes Sally to see a ranch cook. Then they discover that Mr. Underwood, the owner of the ranch, was in the car they held up. Sheriff Bob Wells, Sally's fiancé, is unwittingly searching the country for the car. Chester Underwood, son of the owner, finds the hidden car and identifies it as being the one owned by the bandits who held them up. McSweeney, fearful of losing a good cook, doubts before Underwood that he knows how the car came to be on the ranch. The Wreck and Sally discuss making an escape in Underwood's big car.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"I could make him put the valves back," said the Wreck, "but I couldn't give him any good reason for it. I suppose I'd have to lock him up after he did it, to keep him from telling."

Sally dismissed the idea with a wave of her hand. "If we can't find the wheel to our own car," she said, "what do you say about trying to make it on horses?"

"Perfectly simple," she was doubtful about that. "I'm not sure about you," she said.

He began ruffling with familiar symptoms.

"Henry, there's no need for you to be sensitive about it. You're not supposed to be a good rider, any more than I'm a good chemist. You haven't had the training. I think you'd make a beautiful rider in time, but you're a very bad one just now. You suffer agony every time you get on a horse."

"You haven't heard me squealing," he said, sharply.

"No; I haven't. You wouldn't squeal if you were dying. But so far as making a getaway goes it's not a question of squealing. It's a question of falling off."

He flushed painfully, but she could see no use in dodging the facts.

"I've seen you fall off four times," she said; three times in one day.

"But the second ride I only fell off once," he declared, stubbornly. "I showed improvement, didn't I?"

"You fall off any time the horse stops suddenly," Henry said.

"All right, I admit it," he said. "But after we got started we're not going to do any stopping, are we? And after we've made the getaway, what difference does it make if I do fall off?"

There was something about his stubbornness that secretly delighted her, but she did not mention it. "Well, we may have to try it," she said, "if you really don't mind falling off."

"I don't mind."

They decided, if it came to a question of horses, that the Wreck would take Charlie McSweeney's big bay, while Sally would take the rangy animal that Jerome Underwood rode.

"They're the two best horses on the ranch," she said, "with the exception of that ugly roan that one of the boys rides. But he's out riding fence somewhere, so we can't get it. If we're going to steal horses, we want good ones."

"Sure. The best," affirmed the Wreck, speaking as a connoisseur.

"We'll have to leave most of our baggage behind, of course. We'll have to travel light and fast—as fast as we can, anyhow."

"Don't you worry about me. I'm all right so long as they keep going."

"And of course we can't start until it's dark and everybody is asleep."

"Suits me."

The vision of getting away, even though it was not beyond the rough planning stage, brightened her wonderfully. She became as cheerful as though she were already far on the road. Of course, she knew, it would be an awful ordeal for the Wreck, but he was so willing, even eager, to undergo the torture that it reconciled her to the prospect. Whatever befell him, she knew that he would take it standing up, like a man—except, of course, when he happened to fall off.

The Wreck, despite his brave front, was not looking forward to the exploit with joy, even though it might bring discomfort to their enemies. He would never love a horse. He knew too well what they did to him. But with Sally determined to make an early departure, he was the last person to interpose any objection as to method. If it became necessary to crawl all the way to the Bar-M on hands and knees, or even to Chicago, he would have taken the same attitude. It was his business to see that Sally reached her destination, whatever it was, and he proposed to attend to it.

"I'll put up all the grub that we can carry," said Sally. "That'll be more important than spare clothes. It will be mostly sandwiches, I'm afraid. What kind do you like?"

"Any kind."

"But you must have some preference."

"I'm not particular."

She beamed at him, and he did not know why.

"You're not fussy about your cooking, are you, Henry?"

"Not that I know of."

"It's not the main thing in your life, is it?"

"No."

"And if you were marrying a girl that isn't the first thing you'd think about?"

What in thunder was she driving at, he wondered? Was she making fun of him? He was not marrying cooks or anybody else.

Why couldn't she let him alone? "No; I wouldn't think about it at all," he answered, rather stupidly.

"Would I be supposed to?"

She laughed without restraint; he was such a queer, awkward person.

"No; it would be rather nice not to think about it," she said. "But just the same, I'm going to put you up the nicest sandwiches I know how to make."

"All right. Anything at all."

"And I may even expect you to praise them."

"Sure. I will."

She laughed again, but there was not the least hint of teasing in her eyes.

"Henry Williams," she said, "sometimes you can be perfectly lovely. No; I know you don't understand. It makes it better because you don't."

He had no answer for that, and was uncomfortable. For some reason he could not explain, he was red in the face; he could feel it. He could not stand women, and he would never learn how.

"I guess I'll have another look for that wheel," he mumbled.

"All right. Good luck, old timer."

She watched him go, a half-amused, half-puzzled look in her eyes. There was a hint of motherliness in the smile on her lips; but it was not all motherliness, either.

The Wreck was making another search of the outbuildings, squinting through his spectacles at places where the wheel might possibly be.

He had looked in all the likely places, so far as he could remember; now he tried looking in the unlikely ones. The part that puzzled him most was his patience and lack of temper. Ordinarily, he ought to have been jumping with his nerves raw and his muscles twitching with irritation. But a gloom mood seemed to have settled upon him, and he continued his task with a phlegmatic calm that astonished him.

He saw Chester Underwood emerging from the shed where the flivver stood on its crutch, but took no notice of him. There was nothing that Chester could contribute in the way of information, and he felt that it was polite to let him alone. The more he searched the more probable it seemed that he would ride away on Charley McSweeney's horse. He would not allow the small matter of a bet to detain him, although he would have found pleasure in triumphing over the foreman of the Underwood ranch.

Sally informed him at lunch time that the sandwiches had been made and put away, and that she hoped he would not complain about them. He merely shrugged. She also told him that she was going for a little ride in the afternoon with Chester. He shrugged again, but there was a scowl that went with it.

She did. He saw them ride away toward the hills, and then spent a part of a miserable afternoon in further quest for the missing wheel. It was none of his business, of course, but it did not seem to him that a girl who was engaged to the sheriff, or anybody else, ought to be galloping over the range with any young man who happened to come along.

The afternoon of Jerome Underwood was equally unpleasant. He wanted to get hold of Bob Wells and acquaint him with discoveries, but the sheriff was somewhere on the road and could not be reached by telephone. It seemed to Underwood that the whole system of suppressing crime was unnecessarily primitive. He saw the situation entirely in terms of New York; he expected metropolitan service. He fumed and exploded, and he shot grim innuendoes at Charley McSweeney, who maintained his calm, although he began to be sorry that he had ever bothered himself about obtaining an emergency cook.

Sally came back from her ride, flushed and charming. She told Chester that it had been delightful, every foot of the way, even saying it in the presence of the Wreck, who happened to be in the vicinity of the corral, apparently still looking for an essential part of his flivver.

Back in the kitchen again, she became serious and restless. She waited awhile for Henry Williams; she had something to say. But the Wreck was evidently minded to keep aloof. He did not appear until after she had sent Timothy to find him, with a message that she wanted to talk to him. He came into the kitchen without a word, began putting on his apron, grimly resigned to the performance of at least one more hateful task.

"Never mind the apron yet," she said. "There's something more important."

He waited for the explanation. "We may not have to ride horses," she whispered, after a cautious glance to make sure there were no eavesdroppers.

LEADING STARS TO BATTLE FOR TENNIS CROWN

Tilden, Richards, Borotra and Johnston Considered Tourney's Best Entrants

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 25.
All the world's greatest tennis players, without a single exception start today on the courts of the West Side Tennis club in the chase for the men's national championship.

Because of the international class of the entries, the winner will be entitled to consider himself the world's champion, although there can be no official title awarded, as such, owing to the rules of the International Tennis Federation.

Eighty-five players from eight nations will start in the first round. There are better players from more nations than have ever been entered in a tournament before and the matches are even more international than the recent Olympic matches in Paris.

Leading the entries are three recognized champions, who have a just claim on a world's title as it formerly was understood. William T. Tilden, the greatest singles player in the world; Vincent Richards, the Olympic singles champion; Jean Borotra, the Wimbledon champion and William Johnston, California star, will attract the most attention.

Some of the feature matches on the opening card are Tilden against Manuel Alonzo, the good Spanish player, who is the only one with a victory over Tilden in the last two years; Brookes against Hugh Kelleher; Robert Kinsey against Watson Washburn; Borotra against Carl Fisher; Brian Norton against Peck Griffin and Pat O'Hara Wood, the Australian, against Harold Throckmorton.

"WIZ" KREMER
For three years Ray ("Wiz") Kremer was regarded as the best right hand pitcher in the Pacific Coast league but big league clubs were afraid to take a chance on him because he was well past the youngster age. Pittsburgh purchased him this year and Kremer more than came through. In the early part of the National League season, "Wiz" virtually kept the Pirates in the race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.— Burglars apparently are thinking of organizing a golf club here.

told police somebody forced the lock on his private locker at the Lake Merced Golf club, and stole thirty iron clubs, twelve wooden clubs, two sweaters and two golf bags.
The equipment is worth $250

Kid Gleason May Be Beaver Leader

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Reports that Jake Daubert might be

Beavers was denied last night by President Klepper of the Oregon club.
The new angle is that Kid Gleason, former White Sox leader but at present unattached, may get the berth.

Cherries and Milk Fatal to Pioneer

ANDERSON, Aug. 25.—Godfrey Mills, pioneer settler in Anderson valley, died yesterday morning at the age of 78 years. His fatal illness was attributed to his having eaten cherries with milk. Mills was never ill in his life before. The pioneer left a widow and eleven sons and daughters.

BASEBALL CONTEST ENTRANTS GET BUSY

Many Suggestions Received
As Final Week of Name Competition Is Begun

Indicating that local fans are keenly interested in the strong baseball team that will represent Santa Ana this winter and that they want the club to play under a name that will be both original and distinctive, a veritable flood of suggestions reached The Register sports today.

These suggestions will be turned over to the five judges, Alex Brownridge, Bruce Switzer, Frank Purinton, Norman Henderson and Eddie West. The judges will meet Tuesday, September 2, to decide what name is best suited to the team and which person will get the season pass, good for the first twenty games the team plays.

The contest will close Saturday night, August 30.
Who will be the winner?
What name will be selected?
Will the team be called the "Pink Hose, the Beet-Toppers, the Walnut Glommers or what?"
The contest is open to any Santa Ana man, woman or child.
Selections, with the name and address of the person entering the contest, should be addressed to Eddie West, care of The Santa Ana Register.

SHORT SPORTS

Yesterday's hero: Dutch Weis, Rookie outfielder, drove in two runs with a single, giving the Cubs a 2 to 1 victory over the Giants.

Babe Ruth's 39th home run with one on was the best the Yanks could get off "Dutch" Leonard and the Tigers won, 7 to 2. Howers by Cobb and Manush helped the Tigers win.

Hornsbey hit a homer, a triple and two singles, helping the Cards take a double headed from the Robins, 7 to 6 and 17 to 0.

Dibut, a rookie pitcher, hurled the Reds to an 8 to 2 victory over the Cubs in the second game after Sheehan had grabbed the first game, 9 to 0.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

WHEN THE CLOCK STRIKES 6 Even little Miss Cinderella was content to go back to her drudgery, because she had bewitched a prince and lived for a night.
No matter what small heed a man in evening clothes gives him may pay to day dress, to be smartly and correctly turned an invisible pat on the back that enhances the occasion and enriches the remembrance.
Moreover, when a woman wears formal or semi-formal evening dress to a dance or for dining out it is obligatory upon a man to be equally well-dressed.
The smart details of semi-formal evening or Tuxedo dress are of the primary principles of courtly custom recognized and practised of the world over. Thoughtlessness, rather than ignorance, is accountable for such laxness which prevails among many men who know better and is condemned by all men who know best.
Some of us are habitually remiss about this, yet it is one of our own. Some of us are of deference, to match her appearance with man, as a mere matter of deference, to match her appearance with illustrated here. You see the four-button black silk waistcoat with wide, oval-shaped lapels and short, blunt bottom corners; the starched or semi-starched shirt exposing two studs; the bold-tab wing collar and the black batwing or butterfly tie with a right-angle knot and spreading, fan-shaped ends. All these things are unexceptionally correct, but they do not have to be followed literally. For example, a more conservative, straighter shape may be worn in place of the batwing tie; or a center solitary stud may be preferred to two; or the tie may be set under the collar tabs instead of over them; or the waistcoat lapels may be more V-shaped instead of oval-shaped. Such incidentals fashion leaves to the whim of the wearer. It only attempts to guide him in the broad essentials of good form and established social usage.
Latterly, the white Tuxedo waistcoat has been worn by some well-dressed men in place of the black and, this style has no less an authority to sponsor it than the Prince of Wales. However, the black waistcoat, long the standard Tuxedo color, is still the favorite of most of us, as concerns collars, though, only the wing and not the turn-down, double-band shape is proper. Be punctilious about this rule.

Back in 1912, Bob Gardner, the golf star competing for Yale, set a new collegiate pole vault record of 13 feet 1 inch.

It has been 12 years since Gardner leaped to fame by rising above the 13-foot mark. That's quite a span. But in those following dozen campaigns only one scant inch has been added to Gardner's feat.
Dean Brownell, University of Illinois, cleared 13 feet 2 inches at the Big Ten meet last year. This mark still stands as the American collegiate record.

Have the college vaulters reached the maximum in height? Judging from their scant accomplishments in the past 12 years it would appear that such is the case.

Maximum Reached?
Since Gardner's spectacular vault our universities have produced many first-class vaulters, but not one, with the single exception of Brownell, has been able to outdo the Eli man's 1912 jump.

From 1902 to 1912, some 18 inches were added to the mark. 11 feet 6 inches being considered a top-notch effort a little over a decade ago.

Charles Dvorak of Michigan was one of the best in the country along about the beginning of the 20th century. He was good for around 11 feet 6 inches every time out. Then came Martin Dole of Stanford and others with leaps of 12 feet and 12 feet 6 inches, followed by Gardner and Brownell.

Spearow Falls
And there it has stopped.
True, stars like Frank Foss and Mark Wright have bettered Brown-ell's performance, but not as college athletes. Ralph Spearow, University of Oregon man, who went over with the 1924 Olympic team, has been credited with a leap of 13 feet 6 inches in practice, but in actual competition has fallen far below that figure. In the recent International games he failed miserably.

Track and field records—most of them—being smashed every season, but the pole vault sees very few changes.

SEATTLE, SEALS IN CLOSE FLAG CHASE

San Francisco Manages to Retain Lead of Game and Half After Solon Series

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Still almost neck and neck, the San Francisco and Seattle clubs of the Pacific coast league today are battling along at the top of the scramble in the same positions they occupied a week ago.

The Seals have a game and a half lead. Both teams won four games of the series ending yesterday, the leaders winning from Sacramento while Seattle, until Sunday's double defeat, was pumping Oakland in one-sided fashion.

The Oaks slipped back somewhat in third place, but lost no ground to Vernon, as Bill Essick's hittings dropped a series to the lowly Beavers.

At the bottom of the pile Los Angeles and Portland both gained a few points on Salt Lake, the Bees now being a scant half a game ahead of Bill Klipper's boys.

The Vernon-Seattle series, beginning in the north tomorrow, should shake things up among the leaders.
Both clubs have the opportunity to gain considerably by a persistent winning streak. San Francisco is expected to bolster its leadership by victories over Salt Lake while Sacramento plays Los Angeles and Oakland invades Portland.

L. A. Club Title To Jack Neville

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Defeating Arthur "Tillie" Shafer, former Giant baseball star, Jack Neville, four-time winner of the California Amateur Golf championship, annexed the Los Angeles Country club title yesterday. The score was 2 and 1.

IRVINE LOT TO BE DARK AFTER ONE MORE TILT

Eagles Find Hinrichs Easy;
Hammer Out 9-0 Win;
Billman Checks Swat Bee

The Irvine Beanpickers, bumped off for the fifth straight time yesterday when they lost, 9 to 0, to the Pasadena Eagles at Pasadena, will disband temporarily after next Sunday's game with the same club. Manager Arthur Trickey announced today.

After vacationing several Sundays, the cross-roads outfit, reorganized and with four or five of the strongest semi-professional players in the Southland added to its roster, will renew its baseball campaign, Trickey said.

The Beanpickers were helpless before the fine pitching of Wally Knox at Pasadena yesterday, collecting only seven scattered singles off the crack right hander.
On the other hand the Eagles found "Dutch" Hinrichs to be no puzzle, hitting the big blond's offerings to all sections of the park. A crowd estimated at 10, 000 persons witnessed the one-sided match.

"Red" Billman, formerly connected with Irvine and later a heaver for the Santa Ana Commercial company, went to the hill in the fourth round and immediately stopped the rampage of the Crown City club.

SPORT FLASHES

NEW YORK.—Following his record breaking performance Saturday, when he ran 230 yards in 25 seconds, Charley Fuddock, California sprinter, announced he would remain here and compete in the national championships at West Orange, N. J., next month.
"I'm running as well as I ever did and I want those two national sprint titles," he said.

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y.—
The English polo team, which is to meet the American team in the coming international cup matches, was defeated 14 to 6 here yesterday by a team of American players consisting of Hopple, East, Cowden and Wanamaker, none of whom are on the big American team.

CHICAGO.—Helen Wills, queen of American and international tennis, is to play in an exhibition match on the Skokie clay courts this afternoon. A fellow Californian, Cranston Holman, San Francisco, probably will be her opponent.

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man had a triangular piece of carpet, of the shape shown in the drawing. He cut it into four equal parts, which he re-sewed together in the form of a square, thus forming a neat and symmetrical design.

Can you cut the carpet and re-sew the pieces?

Saturday's answer:
If two equal glasses, containing one-half and one-third of ink, are filled with water, and the contents of both glasses poured into a pitcher, from which one of the glasses is finally filled, the final mixture will be 5-12 ink, and 7-12 water.

In order to solve the problem the mixture in the pitcher, namely the contents of two glasses, must be taken as the unit. Then each glass represents 1-2. Thus the ink in the first glass represents 1-2 of 1-2; the ink in the other glass 1-3 of 1-2. When these two proportions (1-4 and 1-6) are added together, they total 5-12 as the proportion of ink.

Legal Notice
ORDINANCE NO. 237

An Ordinance for the Control and Suppression of Tuberculosis Among Cattle in the County of Orange and Providing a Penalty for the Violation Thereof.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange do ordain as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to bring into, or to cause to be brought into, the County of Orange, any cattle unless they are accompanied by certificate signed by Federal, State, or County Veterinarian, Livestock Inspector, or by his deputy, showing that such cattle are free from Tuberculosis test performed within thirty days of the date of shipment. The thirty day time required for examination and tuberculosis test will be waived in the case of all cattle brought into the County of Orange from Federal accredited herds and from modified free areas designated by the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, as designated in Regulations 1921, Chapter 714, page 1226; provided further that such certificates will not be required of cattle brought into said county for immediate slaughter or as feeders, but no females so brought into said county shall be used for breeding or dairy purposes without an approved tuberculosis test and upon a certificate and written permit from the Livestock Inspector.

Section 2. Immediately upon the arrival of the cattle into the County of Orange, the owner of such cattle shall report their arrival therein to the Livestock Inspector, and shall also report the original point of shipment from which said cattle were shipped and the certificate required by Section 2 hereof shall be filed with the Livestock Inspector and he shall maintain a permanent record in his office. The Livestock Inspector shall mark the cattle for identification and keep necessary records of same. No person shall remove or tamper with any identification mark placed on any animal by the Livestock Inspector for the period of one hundred and twenty (120) days after the arrival of such cattle into the County of Orange. No person shall sell any cattle or move cattle from place to place in said county within a period of one hundred and twenty (120) days from their arrival in the County of Orange without furnishing to the Livestock Inspector a record of such sale or addresses of the old and new owners and the places to and from which the cattle were moved.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Ah! More than martyr's aureole,
And more than hero's heart of fire,
We need the bumble strength of soul."

ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE?

Are you going to the polls tomorrow?
If not, why not?
Is it because you don't know what it is all about?
What, are you too lazy to be a citizen and do a citizen's duty?

To be sure, a vote from someone who doesn't know anything about what it is all about might be regarded as rather a dangerous vote, but surely the issues in the campaign that is just ending are quite plain. There is no reason why you should not have made up your mind as to who you ought to vote for.

The Register has frequently deplored the fact that many important matters in this county and city have been decided by a minority vote. Far too often hundreds of residents of the county forget to go to the polls.

Tomorrow will present numerous matters of importance. The decision in a congressional nomination is to be on your ballot before you. A question that concerns the welfare of the Southwest is involved. For you to fail to do your share in bringing that contest to a definite conclusion would be an act of poor citizenship.

Nominations are to be made for a state senator and for an assemblyman. The men named tomorrow are to be your representatives at Sacramento. Can it be that you don't care who goes to Sacramento?

In two of the districts supervisors are to be chosen. These men will have a great deal to do with the expenditure of the money collected from you in taxes. With you, the selection of a supervisor should be a business proposition.

Voting is a business proposition. Going to the polls tomorrow is your own particular business. It should be given due attention.

MAKE HIM YOUR PAL

A heart bowed down, Nathan Leopold, Sr., sits in the criminal court room at Chicago and hears even the lawyers for the defense admit that his son is guilty of an atrocious murder and must be isolated from society forever.

For years Nathan Leopold, Sr., has expected this son to do great things in the world. Brilliant, clever, learned, the boy seemed to give great promise. And so Nathan Sr. has gone about his own affairs, accumulating a fortune, winning a way for himself in the business world, and leaving the boy to the influence of chance.

He thought that wealth would open up to this son all the doors of opportunity. But what this particular boy needed more was the guidance of an older, steadier mind. For the experts find that he has been the tool of a young master criminal, Richard Loeb.

It is possible that nothing would have kept either of these boys out of the paths of crime. But still many a lad who gets into trouble could have been kept right through comradeship with his dad.

Those fathers who think that they have no time to take the boy hiking, swimming, fishing and boating might well take a lesson from Theodore Roosevelt.

And Theodore Roosevelt himself tells of the wonderful companionship he enjoyed with his parents, and attributes to that much of the success he won later in life. So it seems that after all one of the most important things a man can do is to make a pal of his son.

AN ORANGE COUNTY TEACHER

Mrs. Mable Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, and in charge of enforcement of the liquor laws, is in California on a visit. Mrs. Willebrandt is a remarkable woman, resident originally in Santa Ana, later practicing law in Los Angeles and recognized as filling her place with marked ability. She says that men appointed as "dry" officers should first be given a period of training to make them effective; that the present plan of more or less haphazard selection, largely on a political basis, is a method that does not work out satisfactorily.

The above is from the editorial columns of the Redlands Facts. However, we are not informed that Mrs. Willebrandt is a former Santa Ana, proud though we would be to claim that distinction. But Orange county can claim her. For a number of years she was a teacher in the public schools at Buena Park, and, if our memory serves us aright, was secretary of the Orange County Teachers Institute.

TIGHT SHOES AND "PEP"

Fraulein von Puttkamer, described as a German authority on footwear, advocates rather tight shoes for women, not for physical but for moral reasons. They should pinch a bit, she says, to keep the wearer from becoming slovenly. Entirely comfortable shoes make women too self-satisfied. "If one's shoes are too large, the wearer is apt to slouch along the street, and in time become known as a lazy person."

So here we have an old doctrine in a new form. The famous philosopher, Josh Billings, used to say that a few fleas were good for a dog, because they gave him an interest in life. It is precisely the same principle that Fraulein von Puttkamer applies to pinching shoes. And the philosophy might as well be extended to all creatures of both sexes. "Peppiness" is the great desideratum, and we must not be too comfortable, lest we lose our pep.

Here, perhaps, is the long-sought justification for men's stiff collars and warm coats in hot weather, not to mention many more intangible annoyances. It is all so logical.

BETTER NURSING SCHOOLS

Nursing as a profession, is at last receiving the recognition it deserves from the higher institutions of learning. Two universities, Yale and Western Reserve, have recently established schools of nursing in connection with their medical and academic departments. In these schools nurses receive the best of specialized training and at the same time acquire a broader foundation education than under any previous training system.

Antioch College, too, is offering a fine nursing course under a slightly different plan. Student nurses spend their time in self-supporting occupation and half their time at college. That is, they alternate five-week periods of nursing training at one of the most progressive hospitals in Ohio with five-week periods in academic class rooms.

This new trend toward combining a liberal education with the technical requirements of a course in nursing is one of the most helpful phases of the growing popular interest in health. Nurses now, like doctors, no longer confine their attention to caring for the sick—although they are doing that very well indeed. But they devote a good deal of time and thought to constructive health work, promoting health education through public schools and clinics and instructing patients and parents and boys and girls in the ways of keeping well.

There has been a shortage of nurses in recent years, but this new educational movement is attracting intelligent and competent women to the profession in larger numbers.

State Financial Problems

Redlands Facts

State Controller Ray L. Riley talked to the convention of inheritance tax appraisers at Santa Cruz yesterday and told them the State of California is facing a serious financial problem, due to the increase in state expenditures. Mr. Riley, who handles the bookkeeping of the state finances, says the revenues of the state are increasing at the rate of four and a half millions of dollars each two years, and the expenses are mounting at the rate of seven and a half millions. Mr. Riley thinks that it is going to be quite a job to balance the budget, when the legislature meets early in 1925.

State tax money is raised from the public utility corporations, like the railroads, the gas and electric companies, the express, insurance, telephone and telegraph companies. They pay a proportion of their receipts into the state as their part of the support of the government, paying no city and county taxes. The Legislature has the power to fix these rates and it was the much discussed "King Tax Bill" which last determined what the rates should be three years ago. The theory of this plan is that the corporations shall pay on an equal rate with the people on their real estate and personal property. Mr. Riley said he does not believe the next legislature will raise these rates, nor will it adopt the alternative of levying a direct tax upon the people to meet any deficiency that may arise. Indeed, it is inconceivable that a larger tax is due from corporations, for local taxation has not increased greatly since 1921, and if the people's direct taxes have not increased the corporations cannot be forced to pay more, nor should they.

Mr. Riley's suggestion is that there must be sought out new sources of revenue for the state. A committee of which the senator from this county was the chairman investigated that subject more or less superficially a few years ago and made a report which is available to any committee which shall now take up the subject. That committee, however, did not feel justified in spending any considerable sum of money in such an investigation, inasmuch as no crisis impended at that time and might never come. Of other sources of revenue, gasoline is already taxed for road purposes. There is talk of increasing that tax. Then there is the opportunity to declare certain semi-public activities to be public utilities and to place them in the list of contributors to the state treasury. This will remove them, however, from local taxation, and will increase the people's home taxes by just that much. However, it will solve the problem to some extent from the state's standpoint, and the state never bothers very much about the lesser units of government.

Judgeships of Higher Courts

Redlands Facts

The Facts has been requested to write a word informative of the candidacies of the men on the primary ballots for the higher courts—the Supreme Court and the Appellate Court, and county judges. In each of these there is but one candidate, and this is indicative in a general way of satisfaction with the incumbent, Louis W. Myers is the candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Judge Myers was appointed to the office from Los Angeles, where he is most highly esteemed for his integrity and learning. There are also two Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, all running because of them having been appointed to fill vacancies. They are John W. Shenk and John D. Richards. All are men of fine talents and deserving of election. All are appointees of Governor Richardson and it is the opinion of this paper that he chose well.

The only candidate for Judge of the District Court of Appeals for whom we vote is Jesse W. Curtis, formerly of the Superior Court of San Bernardino county. His friends will delight to do him honor by voting for him.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

"CLINKERS"

You have perhaps read the startling statements made in the advertisements of patent medicines, and have either believed or disbelieved them.

If you have believed, you have perhaps used the medicine with beneficial effects. If you have done a little further thinking, you have noticed that they all describe the effect of poisoning in the system, and how their particular remedy rids the system of this.

Now these chaps know that most people are physically lazy, and that they are but telling the truth in saying that most systems are somewhat poisoned, and need to have the system cleared out and the blood purified.

Every physician will tell you that it isn't what goes into the body that causes the trouble, it is what remains in, that should come out. The food going in is all right. It was created by Nature to feed you, and to maintain your tissues, to give your blood all it needed for its various jobs, to give you growth and development. You use up a certain amount of this food, and Nature has no use for the remainder. Of this remainder some of it is absolutely worthless as food, being simply the fibre or cell covering for real nourishing food. This is usually gotten rid of by the large intestine.

However, some of the real food from meat, eggs, milk, wheat, peas, beans or other foods—what is known as protein foods—if not used or eliminated by the organs which get rid of waste matter, actually form poisons in the system, which can cause trouble anywhere.

Many of the troubles in joints, the liver, the kidneys, can be traced to these particular foods, or rather to the fact that their products are left in the system.

That is the reason that your physician is so anxious about your diet in these conditions.

If it isn't the tonsils, teeth or something else that he can find, that is causing the trouble in joints, liver, or kidneys, then he turns to the intestine, and to the acids, clinkers or poisonous products from the foods mentioned above.

And the suggestion!

That if you walk in the outdoors for a half hour to an hour every day, take ten minutes exercise daily of the bending and twisting of the body, and just eat the amount of food your system needs, then there will not be left in your system any of these poisonous products. Because, even if you do eat—kidneys, skin, lungs and intestine—have been stimulated to do their work so well, that none of these poisonous substances get a chance to remain in your body.

SONG OF FAIRIES

We, the fairies, blithe and antic,
Of dimensions not gigantic,
Though the moonshine mostly keep us,
Off in orchards frisk and peep us.
Stolen sweets are always sweeter;
Stolen kisses much completer;
Stolen looks are nice in chapels;
Stolen, stolen be your apples.
When to bed the world is bobbing,
Then's the time for orchard robbing;
Yet the fruit were scarce worth peeling
Were it not for stealing, stealing.
—Leigh Hunt.

Prosperity at Hand

Long Beach Press

The economic welfare of the United States and Europe are linked. Herbert C. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, in a recent address at Sacramento, stressed the fact that the reparations settlement in Europe should redound to the economic benefit of the United States. Mr. Hoover predicts a great era of constructive progress and thriving in this country.

Secretary Hoover is one of several men of expert knowledge who confidently prophesy that better times are in near prospect. The reflex impulse of the reparations settlement soon should be felt in this country. All the indications point to steady improvement in economic affairs. The political campaign is not demoralizing business, industry or finance. There are no issues in the campaign which would have deranging effect upon the economic system. The Summer lull is giving way to greater activity. The Autumn should see business and industry in healthy swing, with labor employed, with retail business active and with plenty of money in healthy circulation.

TO MY ENCHANTRESS

Greening hedgerows
And daisy-dotted meadows;
Gleaming sunshine
And richly wetted shadows;

April showers
That crash—then, strangely resting, Urge the flowers
To budding, birds to nesting;

Cooling breezes
Where lovers' twilight lingers:
These your kingdom
And these your beauty singers.

The Tariff Still Lives

Riverside Press

Leslie M. Shaw, former governor of Iowa and secretary of the treasury in the McKinley cabinet, who is in San Francisco visiting his son, believes that California should awaken to the great importance of maintaining the principle of tariff protection.

The former secretary was one of the leading advocates of protection in the day that it was the burning political issue. He recalls vividly the slogan of "the full dinner pail."

It should be recognized today with equal force as a principle vital to the country's welfare, as sets the chieftain of the past generation of Republicanism.

And particularly should California be concerned, with the menace of Mediterranean competition in fruit and grape growing, he warns.

The Democrats, he points out, declared in their platform for a "competitive tariff," a "fair revenue tariff." This is the old free trade doctrine, for it foreign producers may "compete" it means that with their lower cost of labor and production they would easily conquer the American markets.

"Your almond growers, not so long ago were compelled to conduct a most energetic campaign to obtain sufficient protection to save their industry," says the ex-secretary. "Your agricultural production is all thus safe-guarded from ruinous foreign competition."

Candidate Davis has specifically adopted the plank in the Democratic platform, which is notice to you Californians that the party aims to undo the protective provisions that the Republican party has given you and is pledged to maintain.

"You must not go to sleep in the fancy that you are secure. You should be vigilant to look after the interests of your state. The Republican party alone gives you assurance that your industries will be safe."

Mr. Shaw hopes that the country will again be roused to an appreciation of the great Republican principle on which the nation's industrial and agricultural life has been so successfully built.

It is vital to the California agriculturists, not only that his own products shall be protected, but also that American industry generally shall be thus advantaged in order that he shall have a market for his products.

The former secretary believes the government should foster industry, not father it.

"The welfare of no state in the Union is more dependent on protection than is California," he said. "The Republican party guarantees a continuance of the policy that has served your interests so well. The opposition threatens your productive prosperity. It announces to you that if it attains control of the government it will open the door to the Mediterranean countries. Your voters should be apprised of the serious menace that confronts them."

"The people have forgotten in considerable measure about the tariff question. If they will only reflect on its significance in the present campaign, they will surely give it the attention it deserves. It is of as much concern now as it was in President McKinley's time. It has been overshadowed by other public questions, but I hope you Californians will wake up and recognize that it is an issue of outstanding importance to the success of your producing activities."

Oldest Fishes

While the rays, including that well-weaponed species, the sting-ray, are related to the sharks in structure, they differ greatly in outer aspect, as well as in their means of attack and defense. Perhaps this difference in appearance is less to be wondered at when we learn that the sharks and rays are considered to be the oldest fishes in existence and probably the stock whence all other fishes were derived. In both sharks and rays the skeleton remains cartilaginous throughout life, instead of hardening into bone.

Other characteristic features are the three valves of the heart, the spiral valve in the bladder, and the large detached eggs. Most of this group have the mouth on the lower side. The sting-ray is the most highly specialized member of the group. Its long, slender tail looks like a living whip, but it is a far more terrible instrument than even a cat-o-nine-tails or a Russian knout. It is not only capable of inflicting terrible wounds from the formidable spines, sometimes as much as eight or nine inches long, with which it is armed, but the opinion is held that the injury is intensified by the action of a poisonous secretion. These spines are subject to wear and tear, but from time to time the fish sheds them and replaces them by new ones.

Most of the sting-rays live in the tropics, though some migrate into temperate climes, one species ranging from the south of England westward to America and eastward to Japan.—North American Review.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

NO. 19—THE MULE'S STORY

"There's another person I'd like to visit," said Weeny, the circus elephant, to the Twins, "and that is Gipsy the Mule. He was in the circus, too."

"I didn't know mules could do tricks," said Nick.

"Why, they're as full of tricks as a magician," said Weeny in surprise. "Only Gipsy wasn't a trick mule. He was just a hard worker in the circus. I don't know what they would have done without him for he was strong and willing to work and wasn't afraid of anything."

"That's funny!" laughed Nick. "I never knew that mules were willing to work. Daddy says they are balky and won't do a thing unless they have to."

Weeny scratched his head with his trunk.

"It is kind of queer!" he said. "All the other mules were balky except Gipsy. But Gipsy wasn't balky a bit. He used to help me move things around where they belonged when the circus came to a new town and all the tents had to be set up again."

"Let's ask him why he wasn't balky," said Nancy.

"A very good idea, indeed," said Weeny. "Well go at once. Have you got my satchel ready?"

"Yes, here it is," said Nick.

So away went Weeny loppity, lippity, loppity, until he came to the place where Gipsy lived.

But no one was at home.

"Look! There's a sign," said Nick. "It's over the door bell."

The sign said, "The key is under the mat! Walk in and help yourself."

"I'll walk in and help myself to some hay," said Weeny.

But just then they heard a voice in the distance going, "Hee haw! Hee haw! Hee haw!"

"There's Gipsy now!" said Weeny. "I do hope I left him enough hay for his supper."

"Well, well, well!" cried Gipsy when he saw them. "This is a pleasant surprise. I'm certainly glad to see you! I've been out with my master working in the field."

"You ever ever balk?" asked Nick curiously.

Gipsy laughed till he showed his teeth. "Not any more!" he said. "I used to when I was young but I learned a lesson. Would you like to hear my story?"

"Oh, yes, yes, yes!" cried everybody—Weeny, too.

"Well," said Gipsy, "when I was young I thought that I came first and the world came second—and everybody in it."

"The master I had then could do nothing with me. He'd twist my tail and even build fires under me to make me move. But it only made me worse. Once I moved away from the first a few feet and to show him that when I wished to do anything, I did it. And the other way round, too!"

"One day we were near the sea when I took a lark's spell."

"Wait!" called a fisherman, "I'll fix him." So he took a sail off his boat and fixed it on my collar. The wind caught it and pulled me along. For the first time I learned that there was something stronger than my will I've never balked or been lazy since."

"That's a fine story!" said the Twins.
